"I think it was a pretty good performance," Wilds said. "Now I'm looking forward to the state meet."

Even though he won both of his individual events, Wilds said he didn't clock the times he was hoping to see in either event. "I wanted to run a 10.2 in the 100 and 21.3 in the 200," he said. "I felt that those times were ones I could reach."

Still, Wilds said he was proud of his accomplishments, especially considering his limited experience.

Wilds is a late-comer to track and field. He only decided to give the sport a try after the start of the 1996 season. Some of his teammates and coaches convinced him that he would be a better and faster football player if he came out for the track team.

At first he struggled to win. His time in the 100 hovered around the 11.0 mark and he had trouble breaking 23.0 in the 200. "At first it was just for football, but after awhile I started to get into it," Wilds said. Because of his competitive nature, Wilds said he began to put a lot of extra time into practice. That resulted in marked improvement.

"I can't stand to lose," he said. "That's why I started going out and working harder. I wanted to get better."

By the end of last season Wilds had gotten his time down to 10.8 in the 100 and 22.4 in the 200. That served as extra incentive for him to work during the off-season.

When he started running during the indoor season, Wilds said he was determined to have an outstanding senior season. He captured the 55-meter dash in the State Indoor Meet with a time of 6.3. That carried over to this spring when the outdoor season began.

It also motivated Wilds to do well in the classroom. He has compiled a 3.4 grade-point average at North this season and has already qualified for admissions to college.

He has accepted a track scholarship to attend North Carolina A&T, where he hopes to help the Aggies continue to be among the Mid-

Eastern Athletic Conference's top track programs. He also plans on majoring in engineering.

"I'm really just beginning to understand how important academics are," Wilds said. "I didn't do so well early in my career but after I realized how important it is I started working hard to get my grades up. This year I've really done what I needed to do in the classroom."

When he gets to the state meet, which will be held at UNC-Charlotte next Saturday, Wilds said he hopes to conclude his career with two more wins.

"I've worked too hard not to be successful," Wilds said. "When you work hard you have to be successful. That's what I expect."

Gregg honored during Carver's all-sports banquet

Carver High School concluded its 1996-97 athletic year with its annual all-sports banquet last Thursday in the school's cafeteria.

Coaches from all of the Yellowjackets' sports teams summarized their seasons and gave out awards to the top performers of their respective teams.

Robert Wynn, the school's athletic director, was given a plaque for his contribution to Carver's athletic program. Wynn has resigned his position, effective at the end of the current school year.

Alfred Poe, who has been chosen to replace Wynn was also given a plaque. Poe recently stepped down as the school's head boys basketball coach. Poe served in that capacity for 25 years and compiled a record of 400-176.

The highlight of the evening came when Coach Keith Wilkes, Carver's head football coach, presented a plaque to Mr. and Mrs. Gary Gregg Sr. Their son, Gary "Scooter" Gregg Jr., a member of the 1996 Carver football team, was killed in an automobile accident on Nov. 15, 1996. Wilkes said that a memorial would be erected at the David Lash Stadium (Carver's football stadium) honoring Gregg.

Mrs. Gregg read an inspira-

A Tribute To My Friends

I have a message to you, all my friends

My leaving you is not the end.

Though my earthly life was cut short

I sincerely hope my spiritual presence will be with you this day.

I tried to leave with you the things I was taught

Love, patience, joy and happiness.

Will you use these in your life as a symbol of our friendship

As you move forward to rekindle our relationship.

Think of the good times when you wanted to cry.

But something I said made you laugh and we let it pass by.

Remember the game when it was first and ten,

We never gave up because we wanted to win!!!

We kept the faith and pulled together because we knew

There was a God looking down from heaven.

Now when life puts you on the first and ten,

Just know I am with you always, my friend.

I can not explain why I had to go

But we'll meet again this I know.

I hope your grief has not stopped your success

For I know all Carver guys are the best.

Do remember me as a friend and God's child

For I know we shall meet again in a little while.

Remember me with joy and laughter

Remember me with smile and tears

Remember me your child, your brother, your friend.

Cry if you must, but just for awhile,

For my God said "I am his child."

This is not the end my friend

For I am with my father and a new life has just began.

Be happy for me for I've made it home

I'll be waiting for you my friends... so long!!!

Your friend, your brother, your son

MEAC lands three on GTE Academic All-America

Three MEAC student-athletes have been named to the 1997 GTE Academic All-America District Teams. Bethune-Cookman's Evangelina Vasquez, a designated hitter for the softball team and first team All-MEAC selection, carried a 3.21 grade point average and was named to the District No. 3 team. The sophomore from Miami is now eligible for the national team to be announced June 5. Coppin State's Cecil Christwell, an infielder with a

3.79 GPA, was named to the District No. 2 baseball team. Christwell, a junior from Kansas City, Mo. is also a first time all-conference performer. Florida A&M's Floyd Cobb was a second-team All-MEAC baseball team. His 3.8

GPA was good enough to earn the junior outfielder from San Diego a spot on the District No. 3 team. Christwell and Cobb will have their names put on the ballot for the national all-academic team in baseball to be announced June 3.

Hornets tune up for nationals at May Madness

The Carolina Hornets 16 and under AAU basketball team won the Central YMCA 2nd Annual May Madness Tournament last weekend.

In pool play, the Hornets defeated West Forsyth Warriors 78-62, the Durham Disciples 74-67, and the Cary Cougars 112-58.

In the Championship game, the Hornets met West Forsyth again and won the game 100-58.

Travis Holcomb-Faye led the Hornets in their opening-game victory against West. Holcomb-Faye led the way with 12 points, AJ Steele had 11 and Hugh Grant added nine points. Kevin Stout of the Warriors all scorers with 29 points.

Against Durham, Grant led the team with 15 points, Rodmond Dunlap scored 14, Steele pumped in 11, and Marcus Oliver added 10.

In the final pool game against Cary, Holcomb-Faye led all scorers with 26 points, Will Johnson added 16, John Orsillo had 15, Steele had 10 and Jason Morris dropped in nine.

In the Championship game against West Forsyth, the Hornets again had balanced scoring from its team members. Johnson led all scorers with 18 points, Dunlap scored 15, Oliver 14, and George Leach had 10 points including three power dunks. The Hornets "twin towers" Leach 6'10" and Orsillo 6'8" kept West out of the paint throughout the game.

SERVING OUR NEIGHBORS
FOR 25 YEARS!

Commemorating Mental Health Month

Did You Know . . .

Adult Mental Illness accounts for more "sick days" than any disease except for cardiovascular disease. Each year 28.1% of the U.S. population over 18 - nearly 52 million Americans will suffer from a mental disorder such as:

- Anxiety Disorders: Panic Disorder, Obsessive-Compulsive Disorder and Phobias - 23.3 Million
- Depressive Disorders: Manic-Depressive Illness - 17.5 Million
- Schizophrenia - 2 Million

The Good News? Most adult mental illnesses respond to treatment with recovery rates as high or higher than other medical illnesses.

Forsyth-Stokes Mental Health Center's highly trained staff has responded to our neighbors' needs in Forsyth and Stokes counties for 25 years.
