What is true greatness?

Lesson Scripture: Mark 9:33-37, 10:35-45

Lesson Aims: To be able to explain spiritual greatness and to appreciate and follow Jesus' model of servanthood.

Lesson Background: During biblical times, as well as today people sought ways to elevate themselves in society. To accomplish this feat was quite difficult. Society was much more rigid then than now. Class rank was determined by noble birth, birth order and/or by law. Even so, people still wanted to improve their lot. When Jesus began to teach people became inspired hoping that the new kingdom would allow them to move up the social ladder. The first portion of chapter 9 is filled with great works of Jesus. He mentioned to the disciples His death and resurrection. They didn't understand but were afraid to ask. As they traveled toward Capernaum, a group of them began to argue (Luke 9:46-48).

Lesson: Today's lesson begins with Christ asking what was the argument over. Jesus knew but the question probably embarrassed them — there was silence. Then Jesus teaches the lesson of greatness. It is one of sacrificial service toward others. Greatness in the sight of God is caring and respecting all people no matter the rank in society. James and John, the sons of Zebedee, later ask Christ can they sit one on each side of Him in glory. The response from Jesus was "Can you drink of the cup that I drink, be baptized with the baptism that I face?" They quickly reply "Yes". Then Jesus tells them that it isn't His place to grant that wish. Preparation is being made for those that deserve those spots. The ten will squabble over the nerve of James and John. Again, Jesus calls all of them together for further instruction. He reminds them about earthly (secular) greatness. Then they are given a glimpse of spiritual greatness. To be great means to give of oneself as a testimony of God's Love. Even He came to serve, not to be served. His ultimate sacrifice will be His life for many.

Application: How many times have we looked at someone else and desired to be them? How many times have the people over us not behaved justly and we desired that status? How many times have we achieved and looked down on others? Does any of this really make us great? On the worldly stage, greatness comes and it goes. Lasting greatness comes through service. According to Jesus, that individual with the title is to serve others not vice versa. We, like others, want to arrive. Too many times we look at the glamour and we forget the toil, the heartache and the sacrifice. We seek the "easy way." That doesn't last. Lasting greatness comes from doing God's will. Jesus, the Master Teacher, lived the lesson. Imagine coming to die for humanity and spending your time "helping." Can you recall your frustration teaching someone a simple lesson? What about Jesus? Yet in all of His patience and love he teaches on. That, too, is part of true greatness! What believers should be seeking are those things that last. The measure of greatness is humility and service. Our names don't need to be yelled out from the church steeple, The pastor doesn't need to have our names rolling off his lips constantly. God sees us and knows our hearts. In His own perfect and divine way our efforts are blessed.
