WHAT'S GOING ON IN AND AROUND BLACK COLLEGE SPORTS

CHECK THIS: Central State head women's basketball coach Teresa Check registered two wins this past weekend that moved her into an elite class of black college coaches that have reached the 400-victory plateau. Check's Lady Marauders (18-6) defeated Malone College 85-73 Saturday to put her at 399 career wins and came back Sunday to down Kentucky State (80-54) for her 400th victory. In the 400-win club, she joins Claffin's Nelson Brownlee, Tiny Laster, who headed programs at Tuskegee, Talladega and Hampton and current Norfolk

State coach James Sweat, who also coached at Hampton. Check, a 1974 CSU graduate who played her senior year at the school, became the women's coach upon her graduation. She stayed for only one year before spending six years as a high school coach and three years as head coach at Western Illinois University. She returned to CSU in 1985 and after her first year back has never had a losing season. In 17 years at CSU, she has posted a 355-100 record. She has a streak of 13 straight seasons with 20 or more wins with one season with 30 victories. Her teams have appeared in 12 straight NAIA women's tournaments, the longest streak in NAIA women's basketball history. Check also serves as CSU's athletic director, taking over in 1998 when the school was struggling to survive as an institution.

CHANGES AT THE TOP: Morris Brown

has named Sol Brannan as its new head football coach. Brannan has been an assistant coach at Morehouse and MBC for the past 25 years and was track and field coach at Morris Brown. The 59year-old Wolverine alum replaces Joe Crosby who was released at the end of last season. At the press conference introducing Brannan, MBC president Delores Cross also introduced head basketball coach Russell Ellington as the interim athletics director. Ellington takes over for Gene Bright, who resigned recently. Cross hopes to have a permanent AD selected in the next few weeks.

The twists and turns of the 2000-2001 season are coming to a head as teams enter the last month of the regular season in black college basketball

In just about every conference, in both men and women's races, preseason favorites have given way to hot teams. It means there should be plenty of excitement as teams jockey for position headed down the stretch to conference tournaments.

MEAC

Both the Hampton men and women were picked as the teams to beat going into the season. Instead, both are struggling to stay above water.

The defending champion Lady Pirates (5-5 MEAC, 7-11) have fallen into the middle of the pack in the women's race which is now paced by the surprise Lady Bulldogs of S. C. State (9-1, 13-4).

Head coach Keisha Campbell's Bulldogs, picked to finish 10th (next to last) by coaches in the preseason, defeated Hampton, Norfolk State and Howard in successive games over the last week, the latter a 107-104 overtime win that knocked the Lady Bison from the unbeaten ranks in conference play.

The talented Hampton men (7-3 MEAC, 13-5) have also struggled, losing two games of a recent road trip to fall into third place in the conference.

The hot team is N. C. A&T (6-2.

coach Curtis Hunter, were picked to finish fourth in the conference but enter Thursday's (March 1) matchup at conference leader S. C. State (8-1 MEAC, 11-9) in position to tie for the top spot. A&T knocked off another surprise team, Howard (5-4 MEAC, 7-11), Monday just two days after the Bison defeated S. C. State.

SWAC

Like Hampton in the CAMPBELL: MEAC, the Alcorn State men (7-2 SWAC, 7-11) and women (7-2 SWAC, 10-9) were picked to rule the SWAC. But they've run into stiff competition from both programs at Alabama Freda Jackson's Alabama State Lady Hornets (8-1 SWAC, 14-4) have run off four straight wins, including a 58-55 win over the Lady Braves of Alcorn, to take over the top spot. Rob Spivery's men (8-1 SWAC, 12-6) also have a four-game win streak including a 64-52 win over Alcorn State. The men have a rematch on Mon., Feb. 5 with Mississippi Valley State (6-3 SWAC, 8-7), the only team to beat them in conference play.

SIAC

Morehouse (8-2 SIAC, 13-5), under new coach Grady Brewer is out front in the men's SIAC race. Darius Wade's 21.3 points per game leads the Maroon Tigers. New head man Winston Bennett has Kentucky State MEAC, 9-8). The Aggies, led by second-year (6-4 SIAC, 9-9) in a tie for second. Preseason pick Clark Atlanta is fourth at 4-3, 9-8.

The Lady Wildcats of Fort Valley State (9-1 SIAC, 14-4) are one of the few preseason favorites performing up to expectations. They hold a half-game lead over surprising Tuskegee (8-1 SIAC, 13-

CIAA

The GIAA race took 4 turn this week when Johnson C. Smith (4-1 CIAA W. 14-3) the conference's only nationally ranked men's team, fell to defending champion Winston-Salem State (2-2 CIAA W 16-3) in a key Western Division game.

of MEAC race.

Head coach Dave Robbins' perennial E. Div. favorite Virginia Union (4-0 CIAA E, 11-6) seems to have righted their ship since getting better inside play from CIAA shot-block leader Hugh Taylor, the cousing of former Panther and current Detroit Pistor Ben Wallace, and 6-8 transfer (Lander) Na'im Fogle, who sat out the first semester! On the women's side, defending tour nament champion Livingstone (2-3 CIAA W, 13-4) has struggled while head coach Joli Robinson's Lady Eagles of N. C. Central (4-0 CIAA W, 15-2) have prospered Surprising Va. State (3-1 CIAA E, 9-7) and St. Paul's (3-1 CIAA E, 11-5) lead the East over favorite Bowie State (2-2, 7-12.

The XFL's got next of pro football for a while, you haven't. Or maybe you have.

Though the NFL has their annual all-star game (the 2001 Pro Bowl) left on their schedule this Sunday, there's another whole season of football on tap, the XFL.

This is the league created by World Wrestling Federation founder Vince McMahon who brought NBC and a couple of other networks along so that the novel league would begin their first season with TV expo-

Beginning Saturday (Feb. 3) in prime time (8:00 pm on NBC), the New York/New Jersey Hitmen will tangle with the Las Vegas Outlaws to kick off the eight-team league's play on their 10-game schedule.

But this is not just football as we know it. McMahon and his cohorts have added some new wrinkles, and brought back some old ones that they hope will be entertaining. They are things like:

- No fair catches on punts, though punt returners are given a five-yard "halo" for their

Any punt travelling over 25 yards is a live ball and can be recovered by either team.

 No point-after-touchdown (PAT) kicks.
After touchdowns, teams will have to run or pass. for one point. Fumbles or interceptions can be returned by the other team for a point.

Receivers or defenders will need only one foot in bounds on a reception or intercep-

- Defenders can play "bump-and-run defense all over the field.

- Any number of players will be 'miked' as well as some coaches and fans.

Players on the rosters of the XFL teams are primarily a mixture of NFL veterans and castoffs. Black colleges have representation on each of the teams.
