

Galilee Missionary Baptist Men's Fellowship holds appreciation breakfast for women

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

The Men's Fellowship of Galilee Missionary Baptist Church hosted its first appreciation breakfast for more than 90 women of the church on July 13 in the fellowship hall. The breakfast was intended to "show the ladies of the church how much the men value their support."

Twenty-five men in the fellowship prepared and served the meal. The color scheme of lavender, white, and soft shades of peach was beautifully displayed in specially-made place mats, banners, and lavender roses, which were later given as gifts. Ronald Sadler decorated the fellowship hall.

The breakfast included grits, eggs, sausage, hash browns, bacon, Belgium waffles, biscuits, toast, fruits, assorted juices and coffee.

Program participants were Deacon Stephen McCloud, Deacon Clarence Gilliam, Trustee Waymon Monroe Sr., Minister John Hymes and Deacon Ben Gray.

The Men's Fellowship has

The officers are Deacon Ben Gray, president; Michael

Alexander, first vice president; Minister John Hymes, second vice president; Trustee Waymon Monroe, secretary; and Bryant Smoot, assistant secretary.

A special thanks was extended to Pete Vernon of Vernon's Produce Co. and Larry McMillian of D&K Fresh Start Janitorial Service for their generous support and contributions to the occasion.

Goler's Tiffany Patterson receives scholarships

Patterson

Goler Memorial is continuing to provide its youths with funding to assist them along the road to academic excellence. The Arthur Jarrett/Nannie Kemp Scholarship Fund, established in 1975 by the late Rev. James L. Hunt, has provided yearly scholarships to deserving youths through contributions made by members and friends of Goler Memorial AME Zion Church. Tiffany Patterson received the 2002 AJ/NK Scholarship of $1,200 and will attend Salem College in the fall.

Patterson, a graduate of Carver High School, also has received a scholarship from the Western North Carolina Conference Board of Christian Education of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church and a scholarship from the Crosby Scholars Program.

Patterson, the daughter of Denise Worthy, has been active in and outside of her church for many years. At Goler Memorial, she is an ardent tither and has been active in the Sunday school, Usher Board, choir, women's Bible study, the hospitality ministry, and has volunteered with the coliseum and Dixie Classic Fair fund-raisers. She participated in the Crosby Scholars program from 2000-2002.

Her desire to work in her community has been shown through her service at the Salvation Army and YMCA. As a member of the Black Achievers, she also participated in the band and Key Club at Carver High School. Many deserving youths such as Patterson need the support of family, church and community to succeed in today's educational environment. Goler encourages community groups and churches to establish scholarship funds for the many students who need assistance. Donations may also be made to the Arthur Jarrett/Nannie Kemp Scholarship Fund at Goler Memorial AME Zion Church. Persons making a donation of $250 or more will be entered into the Scholarship Fund Hall of Fame, which is recognized each year and the names entered onto Goler's "I Saved A Mind" plaque displayed at the church.

This year Goler proudly entered into the Hall of Fame Dorothy Allen, Vincent Stafford, Mosé Belton-Brown, Clara Clavon, Lashonda Hunt-Means, Letisha Nelson-Hunt and Nathaniel Clavon (posthumously).

Goler takes great pride in recognizing the accomplishments of Patterson and those of persons who donate generously to the scholarship fund. For more information, contact the church at 724-9411.

Kathleen Hunt is the scholarship chairperson, and Rev. Seth Lartey is the pastor.

Chris Young, from Flip Force Gym in Kernersville, who will give his testimony Friday night, started gymnastics at the age of 9. He took the city bus to the gym daily and worked off much of his tuition by weeding and emptying trash cans. It was not long before he started to win N.C. state titles and soon took his first gold medal at the AAU National Championship on the vault at the age of 10 years old.

This was just the beginning, as he became the most decorated male gymnast to ever come from North Carolina. In 1992 he was the Southeast's top gymnast, finishing second all-around in the nation at the USA-Gymnastics National Championship. He finished his junior career as one of the top male gymnasts in the United States, winning the gold on vault and silver on floor.

All this led him to a coaching career that would help him earn money as he continued his career. He began his senior career at the University of Minnesota. Soon he came home again to train with his first coach, Bob Kohut. The two worked hard as a coaching team, producing the top teams in North Carolina as Young continued on his quest to become a USA National Team member. In February of 1997 Young finished strong at the senior national competition, tying Jon Mcready, 1996 Olympian, for the first-place finish on vault.

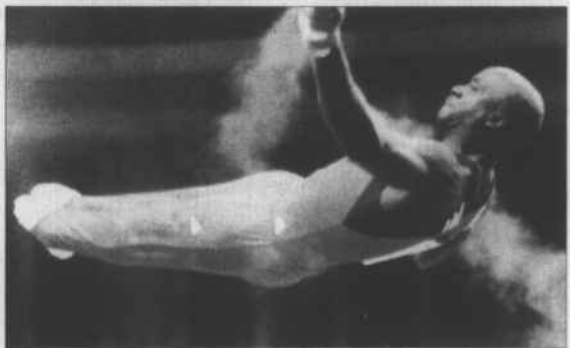

There he was invited to concentrate his efforts at the Olympic training center in Colorado Springs, where he continued to fulfill his dreams as one of the United States' top male gymnasts. This training has made Young one of the most sought-

Wilkins.

On Saturday clothes will be given away from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Evangelist Vanessa Jeter will be the mistress of ceremonies for the evening service. Pastor Calvin Oglesby will give testimony. The speaker for the night will be Pastor Melvin "Rip" Wilkins.

Nightly services will begin at 6:45. The Community Praise Team and the New World Cappadocia Mass Choir will sing. Pastor Paul Jeter and Evangelist Yvonne Jefferson will lead the evangelistic team.
