

Choristers will perform at Carver alumni event Sunday

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

The Twin City Choristers, an all male performing choral group, will perform a concert at Carver High School, located at 3545 Carver School Rd. on Sunday, May 18, at 4 p.m. The concert is sponsored by the Carver High School Alumni Association. Tickets for the event are $10.

The Choristers were organized in 1957 by Dr. Dunston, who had been urged by Dr. A. L. Cromwell, a prominent Winston-Salem dentist and musician, to pursue her dream of organizing an all male chorus. Cromwell had directed a similar group of men called the Twin City Glee Club in the early 1920's. Following his advice, in September of 1957, Dr. Dunston founded and organized the Twin City Choristers and served as the group's first music director.

The Choristers have performed in churches, schools and concert halls in and around Winston-Salem, and throughout North Carolina. They have done concert tours to New Jersey, Pennsylvania, New York, and Connecticut.

As members of the mainstream arts community in Winston-Salem, The Choristers have participated in concerts with the Winston-Salem Symphony, the Piedmont Chamber Singers, and Winston-Salem State University.

The Choristers currently have two CDs on the market. "Reflections" was recorded in 2004 and "Christmas With The Twin City Choristers," was recorded in 2005. The Choristers is one the newest member groups of The Arts Council of Winston-Salem and Forsyth County

For more information about the Choristers, call Rudy Anderson at 336-744-0048, or Shonta Moore at 336-682-1841 or e-mail thetwincitychoristers@aol.com.

Washington were given UNCF's highest honor, the Frederick D. Patterson Award, for their support for UNCF member colleges and for Denzel Washington's recent film, "The Great Debaters," about the history of Wiley College.

The winner of the Miss National UNCF crown is determined by the amount raised by students at UNCF member colleges and universities. This year, under Lawton's leadership, students from Wiley College raised a total of $82,076 for UNCF.

Lawton was crowned Miss National UNCF at the annual joint conference of the UNCF National Alumni Council (NAC) and its subsidiary organization, the UNCF National Pre-Alumni Council (NPAC), which was held in Montgomery, AL on Feb. 13-17.

Lawton will serve as an official UNCF representative at national events, including An Evening of Stars, the annual UNCF national television special. Additionally, she will attend regional UNCF events such as the Chicago Black & White Black Ball, the Atlanta Mayor's Masked Ball, the Indianapolis Classic, the Maya Angelou

Women Who Lead Luncheon in Charlotte, and other events throughout the year.

Members of NPAC elected Chrishele I. Kingdom as incoming president. Kingdom, a junior at UNCF member institution Clafin University in Orangeburg, S.C., will be responsible for organizing NPAC conferences, developing fundraising strategies and helping to keep NPAC active on the campuses of UNCF's 39 member colleges and universities. David Miller was elected NAC President and Dr. Rubye Taylor-Drake is the Immediate Past NAC President.

Ryan's winning time clocked in at three minutes, 23 seconds, making him and Avin the first annual victors.

BJ's also donated $2,500 to the What to Expect Foundation, which helps low-income, lower-literacy parents expect healthier pregnancies, safer deliveries and happier babies. From the donation, 250 low-income moms-to-be will receive a "Baby Basics" book and program, created by Heidi Murkoff and Lisa Bernstein. The first 100 moms attending the event also received a free, autographed copy of the recently released "What to Expect When You're Expecting: 4th Edition" by Murkoff.

Paying for College 101

Seeing ads about how easy it is to get up to $40,000 for college?

That "easy money" is probably a high-interest loan — which won't be easy when it's time to pay it back.
