

Porsche Jones gearing for second b-ball camp

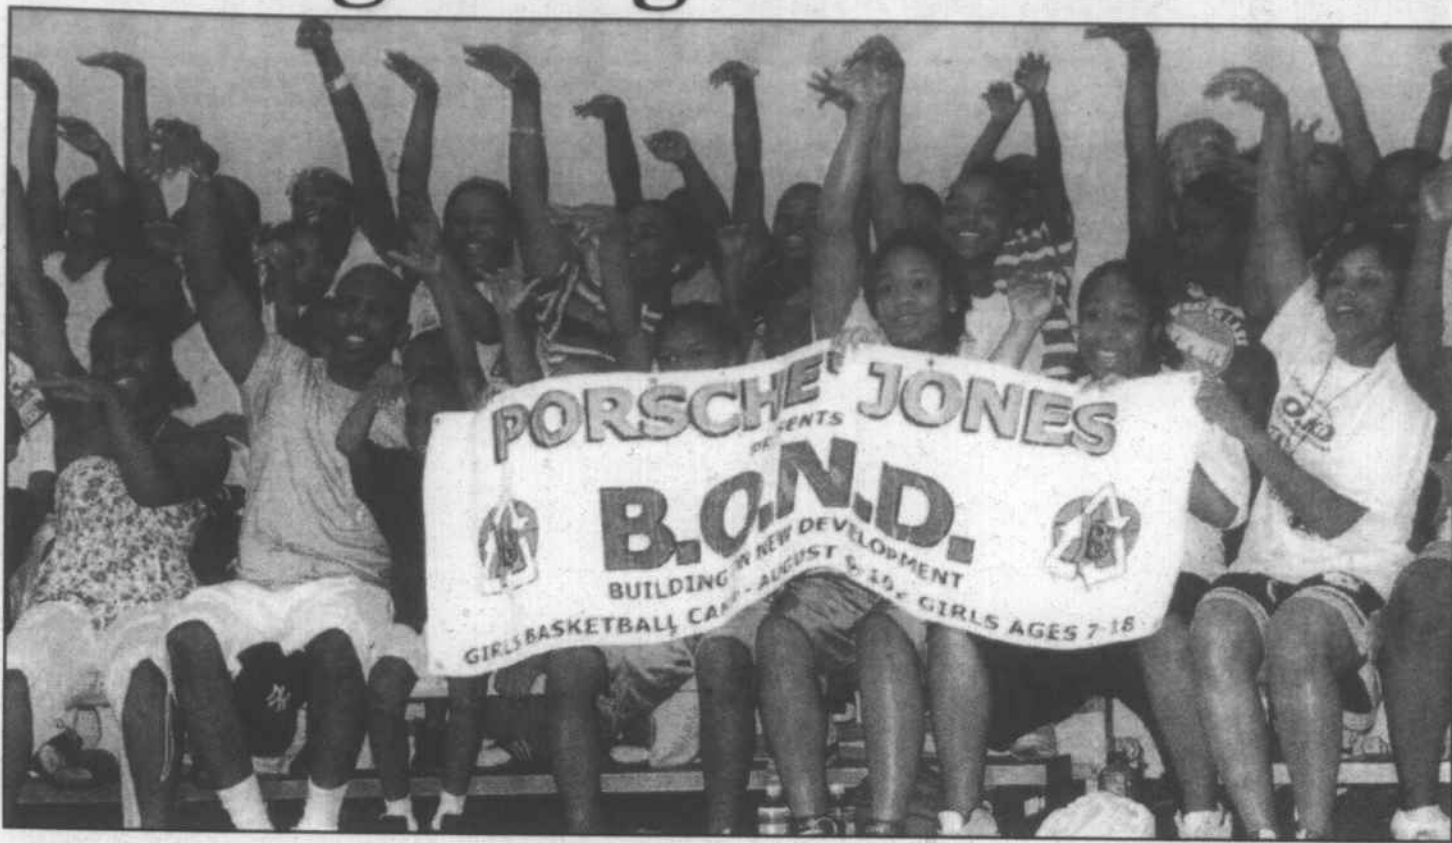

BY ANTHONY HILL
THE CHRONICLE

Former Wake Forest and Carver star baller Porsche Jones is gearing for her second annual summer basketball camp. More than 45 campers learned fundamentals from the high school hall of famer and special guest at last year's Camp B.O.N.D. (building on new development).

Jones hopes to be more hands on during her second camp, which will be held at Greater Cleveland Avenue Christian Church, Aug. 4-6.

"I'm very excited about the camp this year," Jones said. "Last year was my first one, and I wasn't really sure what to expect. I wasn't even sure if I was going to get a lot of girls. I want to be a little more hands on this year. That's why we limiting the enrollment to about 45 girls. We want to be able to work close with each camper. I'd like to eventually do a co-ed camp, but right now we're doing what we can for the girls. I have a lot of fun working with kids, and this is another way to give back."

The camp is geared toward girls ages 6-17. Pre-registration cost is $55, while on-site registration is $70. Pre-registration will be held at Carver High

Curtis and NBA star Josh Howard — among others. Howard is also a sponsor of Jones' AAU squad, Team B.O.N.D.

"Josh does so much for our organization," Jones said. "He's going to be a guest for this camp. He told me that he's going to bring some surprise guest with him this year. I'm also hoping to have Camille Little (WNBA player). I'm also going to have Glenn's coach, Eugene Love, help out this year. It's going to be similar to last year's camp. We're going to teach fundamentals, speak about life and have some fun. That's important. I think the girls will have a lot of fun. I'm looking forward to it."

Jones is presently seeking corporate sponsors to help kids that are less fortunate.

"We're definitely looking for some companies to help some kids attend this camp," Jones concluded. "That's always a concern for me. We're going to do what we can to help deserving kids get a chance to attend."

School on July 26 and 27, from 6 to 7 p.m.

Group rates are also available.

"The group rate actually breaks down to $55 per person," Jones said. "That's something that some people may be interested in doing."

Each camper will receive daily snacks, drinks, an official camp Tee and sports bracelet. Derrick Speas, president of Next Level All-Sports Training will provide speed and agility sessions for the campers. Jones also said there will be special guest speakers and instructors at the camp, including former Wake head women's coach Charlene

Tim Grant is a former assistant basketball coach at Winston-Salem State. Grant coached under the legendary coach Bighouse Gaines.

Gaines Hall Of Fame to add eight

CHRONICLE STAFF REPORT

The Winston-Salem University Clarence "Big House" Gaines Athletic Hall of Fame will welcome eight individuals in the induction class of 2008 as confirmed by the Hall of Fame Committee Chair, Kimberly Reese, last week.

The WSSU Athletic Hall of Fame enshrines an annual class of distinguished individuals in three categories as former athletes, former coaches and individuals who have exhibited meritorious service to the university and the athletic department.

The 2008 Hall of Fame class includes one former coach and seven former athletes as announced by the 14-member Hall of Fame committee.

Woodbury

Tory "Hollywood" Woodbury, James Winbush and Jack Cameron. Former Lady Ram softball player Laurie Underwood and former Ram wrestler

Danny Boden round out the 2008 class of inductees.

All eight inductees will be honored with enshrinement into the WSSU Clarence "Big House" Gaines Athletic Hall of Fame in a formal induction ceremony to be held on Sept. 12, at the Anderson Center McNeil Banquet Hall. The event will take place on the day before the Rams' first home game against the Savannah State Tigers.

Tickets to the induction ceremony are available for $75 through the WSSU Department of Athletics and the admission price includes a ticket to the Rams' game versus the Savannah State Tigers on Saturday afternoon.
