Meeting will highlight N.C. adoption options

A Free International Adoption Information Meeting will be held Monday, Oct. 27 from 7 - 9 p.m. at the Family Services office, 1200 South Broad Street, Winston-Salem, NC. National Adoption Awareness Month is celebrated each November to highlight children around the nation and the world who are waiting on an adoptive family. Family Services, in collaboration with the Children's Home Society and Family Services of Minnesota, will host the information meeting about international adoption options in North Carolina.

"International adoption is a wonderful way for families in our community to become parents" says Rebecca Nagaishi, Director of the Family Solutions Division of Family Services, Inc. "Adoption fulfills the promise of a permanent, forever family for children across the world."

Professor will discuss good, bad and ugly of '08 election

Allan Loudon, professor of communication at Wake Forest University, will present a lecture titled "Vote: The 2008 Election" at 3 p.m. Oct. 29 in Wake Forest's Z. Smith Reynolds Library, Room 204.

In the lecture, Loudon will present a retrospective - what he calls the "good, bad and ugly" of the campaigning in the 2008 presidential race. He will use video clips from his "hit list" of political ads from the primary and general election season to illustrate particular positions.

The lecture, which is sponsored by the library, is free and open to the public.

Free talk about incontinence slated for Tuesday

Dr. John J. Smith, professor of urology at Wake Forest University Baptist Medical Center, will present a free talk on the latest treatments for urinary incontinence from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 28 at Cornerstone Baptist Church, 4507 Thomasville Road, N.C. Highway 109.

Urinary incontinence affects about 20 percent of women over age 40 and nearly 30 percent of elderly people active in the community. One percent to 30 percent of men are affected following prostate surgery. Incontinence can result in loss of self-esteem and in some people, anxiety and depression.

About 80 percent of people with bladder control problems can be helped or cured.

For more information about the talk, call Evelyn Hord at 336-769-0887.
