

We've Come
Such a Long Way.

WINSTON
SALEM
STATE UNIVERSITY

Imagine
How Far
We Can Go.

For over a century, Winston-Salem State University has said, yes to education.

We said, "Yes, you are worthy," to those first 25 students who attended Slater Industrial Academy in 1892, founded just 75 years after laws were passed making it a crime for blacks to learn to read and write.

Standing on the shoulders of our illustrious founder, Dr. Simon Green Atkins, we said, "Yes, we have persevered, triumphant in the face of numerous obstacles."

And to our 6,400+ student body, we say, "Yes, we now entrust you to be the change agents needed to secure our future."

Humble beginnings can give birth to extraordinary circumstances when we become the change we seek in the world.

Imagine possibilities. Realize success.
