Salsa contest returning to Farmers' Market

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

The Downtown Winston-Salem Farmers' Market will hold its Annual Tomato Salsa Contest on Thursday, Aug. 6 at 11 a.m.

Tomato Salsa judging will begin at 11:30 a.m. and winners will be announced at noon. A cash prize and ribbon will be awarded to 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place winners.

A man tastes some of the spicy entries at a recent market salsa contest.

The Downtown Winston-Salem Farmers' Market Salsa Contest, now in its seventh year, has drawn entrants from across the county. From traditional to non-traditional, the salsas are as diverse as the entrants themselves. All salsas are made with fresh, ripe tomatoes. The event also promotes the fact that during July and August, the Farmers' Market is the place for some of the biggest and most-ripe tomatoes of the season.

For more information and/or to register, visit <http://www.dfm.cityofws.org> or call 336-724-2474. Entrants can also send their name, address, e-mail and phone number to: Downtown Farmers' Market Salsa Contest, c/o A.S. Garland Marketing/PR, 541-A Trade Street, Winston-Salem, NC 27101. Deadline for entry is Friday, July 31.
