Greater Galilee W-S celebrates first anniversary

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

Greater Galilee Winston-Salem, which meets at Southside Baptist Church (401 E. Sprague St.), celebrated its first anniversary on Feb. 5 with a celebration that also drew members of Southside and Greater Galilee Charlotte.

Pastor Robert L. McGowens, who leads both the Winston-Salem and Charlotte churches, led the service, which included remarks from City Council Member James Taylor of the Southeast Ward and Deacon Bill Board of Southside Baptist Church. Both men encouraged the members of Greater Galilee Winston-Salem and Southside Baptist to continuing working together on programs and initiatives that benefit the entire community.

Council Member Taylor

Wood, members of Phi Beta Sigma Fraternity, made a special presentation to the church. After the service, visitors had the opportunity to tour the facility, as well as enjoy food and fellowship.

Greater Galilee has grown its ministries over the last year. Outreach ministry programs include regular nursing home visitations, collection and delivery of food, supporting the Samaritan Ministry and door to door evangelism. GGBCWS provides members with a nursery as well as classes for the youth, teens, college students and adults that are held before Saturday Service and on Tuesday nights.

Saturday morning services begin at 10, followed by the worship service at 10:45 a.m. "Tuesday Night Teaching" begins at 6:30 p.m.
