

Partnership provides services to Rolling Hills families

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

GIDE Youth Education Academy is collaborating with the New Canaan Society, Delmarva, the Midtown Cafe and Urban Family Initiatives to provide hot meals, Bible studies and other services to families who live in Rolling Hills Apartments. The services are offered twice a month.

According to program coordinators, the nutritious meals served are a stop-gap for families whose food stamps or pay checks don't extend to the end of the month. Bible studies and family involvement activities are intended to support families in their physical, spiritual, emotional and social development.

The partners came together specifically to help Rolling Hills, which is infamous for its high crime and teen pregnancy rates. There are also many single-parent fami-

Young talent sought for Omega Psi Phi competition

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

The Psi Phi Chapter of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity is taking applications for its annual Talent Hunt.

The competition will be held at 3 p.m. on Sunday, March 3 in Dillard Auditorium of the Anderson Center on the campus of Winston-Salem State University.

Talented high school students are invited to participate. Contestants must live in the Winston-Salem area. Their musical selections must be classical or semi-classical and rendered vocally or instrumentally. The performance must be memorized and may not exceed six minutes. The first-place winner will receive $300; the second-place prize is $200, while $100 will go to the third-place winner and $50 will go to the fourth-place winner.

The first-place winner will also compete in Omega Psi Phi's district competition in Raleigh on April 26.

Interested contestants may contact Bro. Eddie Bines at 336-408-0746 or ebines@windstream.net or Bro. Michael Magruder at magruder@wsu.edu for an application.

FROM TEACHERS COLLEGE
TO LEADING UNIVERSITY

In 1925, Winston-Salem Teachers College (now Winston-Salem State University) became the first African American college in the nation to grant a BS degree in elementary education. It also became the first historically black college in North Carolina to gain full membership in the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education.

With a strong foundation in teacher education, WSSU has grown to become one of the leading producers of teachers in North Carolina.

Today, WSSU offers seven bachelor degree programs and three masters degree programs in education, continuing the legacy of providing better opportunities through education.

This is WSSU now.
