mal was to be slain (with no broken bones) and a meal prepared to commemorate their freedom. The blood from the lamb was to be smeared on the doorposts and lintel of each dwelling. This was the sign for the Death Angel (tenth plague) to pass over their households.

The specifics of the meal (Feast of Unleavened Bread) are also found in Exodus 12. God further instructed Moses and Aaron to institute these events as an annual celebration, handed down from generation to generation. The blood saved them and the meal commemorated their flight from Egypt. More than a thousand years later, the Jews continued to celebrate Passover. The atmosphere in Jerusalem was becoming more and more intense as Jews poured into Jerusalem for the observance. Jesus and His disciples went there also, you see, His time had come! On the first day of the week (Christians' Palm Sunday), Christ made His triumphant entry on a donkey. The second day, He cleansed the Temple. The third day was not recorded in any of the Gospels. On day four, He ate the Passover meal, instituting the Lord's Supper; prayed in the Garden of Gethsemane; and was arrested and taken to the high priest. Jesus' trials

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

The Goler Metropolitan A.M.E. Zion Church Choir will present Theodora Dubois' Easter cantata "The Seven Last Words of Christ" on Easter Sunday, March 31 at 6 p.m.

Dr. Alfred L. Cromwell, a dentist who dearly loved music and was the minister of music at Goler, began the cantatas on Easter Sunday, March 27, 1932.

In 1935, a symphony group was added and Vivien King Bright was the soprano soloist. Frank Roane, a professional baritone singer, and George Matthews, a Juilliard School of Music student, sang tenor with the group.

After playing organ for many years, A. Louisa Foy took over for Dr. Cromwell.

This year's artists include Eddie Bines, a baritone and choir director of Mt. Pleasant Church. He studied at N.C. A & T State University. The lyric soprano is Kathy Anderson, who studied at WSSU with V. K. Bright and Betty Allen of the UNC School of the Arts.

Other performers include:

- Adrian Swygert, the minister of music at St. Holmes, who studied at WSSU and sings tenor with The Twin City Choristers.

- Organist Marion 'Pete' Thomas, the minister of music at Bethlehem Baptist Church and a graduate of Winston-Salem State University.

- Narrator is Dorothy McCarthy, who taught English at the high school
