

Bachelor Benedict Club supports E-Girls

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

The Bachelor Benedict Club, Inc. has given E-Girls (Empowering Girls in Real Life Situations) a donation of $1,000.

Club President Ron Hutton, Treasurer Ward Miller and member Joe Crocker heard about E-Girls through Mona Lovett, E-Girls' Grant and Fundraising chairperson.

"After learning about what E-Girls is doing in our community for young girls, the Bachelor Benedict Club voted to give their yearly donation to support E-Girls," said Hutton, adding that club members voted unanimously to support E-Girls.

The Bachelor Benedict Club is a national social organization whose objective is to promote and perpetuate the highest moral standards and the social ideals of the community. Chapters are located in a number of cities throughout the United States. It was organized during a time of racial segregation and unrest, founded in Indianapolis, Ind. in 1902 by several young Black men looking for social outlets.

The Bachelor Benedict Club of Winston-Salem was founded in 1929. During the '20s and '30s, it became an important social and networking source for African Americans. The members, during that period, helped shape black Winston-Salem. The Winston-Salem chapter continues to support organizations in the community.

Goodwill awards academic scholarships to area students

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

Goodwill Industries of Northwest North Carolina has awarded scholarships for academic achievement to the children of nine Goodwill employees through the Dr. Bob H. Greene College Scholarship Program.

The recipients, all attending accredited universities or institutions of higher education in the fall, are Brandon Barnette, Brianna Barnette, Kyra Brown, Michael Carpenter, Carlie Cunningham, Phil Do, Autumn Hatley, Kaylin Haymore, Luke Haymore, Sidney Jackson, Cody Locklear, Maggie Lyons, Kimberly Melton, Tyler J. Miller, Rae Riche, Natalie Runser, Mackenzie Slater and Myracle Stevenson. Goodwill's Board of Directors established the scholarship fund to honor the late Dr. Greene's years of dedication to Goodwill and in recog-and I thank you all for such a blessing." The award is intended to not only further the education of aspiring students, but also recognize and assist those students who demonstrate involvement in their community and represent the values of Goodwill.

"The Bob H. Greene scholarship reassured me that my education would be covered, and with this degree that I will complete in 2014, I will be able to help others just as the wonderful people behind this scholarship helped me," said Sidney Jackson, a senior at East Carolina University. "Words cannot express how grateful I am to have been selected for this opportunity and I thank you all for such a blessing."

To be eligible, scholarship candidates must have a parent currently employed by Goodwill, a record of community service, meet specific academic requirements, and be either a current student at an institution of higher learning or a graduating high school senior enrolling in an accredited institution of higher learning for the following fall semester.

The application process for the scholarship includes submission of an essay discussing one of three possible topics along with two letters of recommendation, one from a teacher or counselor, and one from a supervisor or community leader.

well as charitable ones, such as adopting families for the holidays and hosting clothing giveaways for the homeless. The class also donated money to help students at Ashley Elementary School fund a trip to Washington, D.C.

A portion of the proceeds from its golf tournament also go to a worthy cause. This year, $1,000 was donated to Winston-Salem Prep, which has inhabited the old Atkins High building on Cameron Avenue since 2004.

"We give back to the community because the community was good for us in the days of segregation and integration," said Renee Phillips, the secretary for the City of Winston-Salem.

Like Phillips, many members of the class have accomplished much in their 60 years of life. The class has doctors, lawyers, engineers and other professionals. Phillips believes the success that she and her classmates achieved is a testament to the teachers at Atkins.

"The teachers prepared us for life," she said. "They prepared us academically; they prepared us socially, so we were ready when we graduated Atkins."
