Community Briefs

Honoring our Veterans

Beginning Memorial Day week and continuing throughout June, the Friends of the Odd Fellows Cemetery would like to honor those veterans who are buried in the Odd Fellows Cemetery. The 'Friends' are volunteers who clean, maintain and beautify the 10 acre historic black cemetery, where military veterans from World Wars I and II, Korea, Vietnam and even the Spanish-American War are buried. Their service should not be forgotten, says the organization. Today, 'Friends' recognizes Pfc. James Harry Spencer, World War I, born in 1890.

If you know the families of veterans buried at the cemetery, contact the group on its Facebook page: Friends of Odd Fellows Cemetery Winston-Salem.

Seven Winston-Salem Senior Living Facilities recognized with National Award

SeniorAdvisor.com recently released its Best of Senior Living 2015 awards. The winners were awarded based on the reviews and ratings of residents and their loved ones. The web-site currently has over 75,000 ratings of senior living facilities, all provided by the people who would know best. The web-site tallied all the ratings in order to pinpoint which homes had achieved the status of top 1% in the United States. All the winners earned a 4.5-star rating out of 5 from a significant number of reviewers.

Out of all the assisted living communities in the area, seven Winston-Salem facilities made the list this year: Arbor Ridge at Kernersville, Carolina Estates, Carriage House Senior Living Community, Clare Bridge at High Point, Creekside Terrace, Mallard Ridge and The Crest of Clemmons. These seven options have consistently provided the highest level of satisfaction to current residents.
