Sorority donates books to WS/FCS Schools

SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE

The National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa Inc., Beta Lambda Chapter, collected over 600 books and $1,900. From this initiative, Beta Lambda Chapter presented books for students to take home to add to their home libraries.

Certificates were presented to school representatives at the Nov. 10 Winston-Salem/Forsyth County School Board meeting. The books were presented to two schools during American Education Week: Cook Elementary School (250 books) and Kimberley Park Elementary School (350 books).

The National Sorority

of Phi Delta Kappa Inc., Beta Lambda Chapter is an organization of female educators committed to stimulating professional growth among teachers, fostering a spirit of sisterhood, promoting the highest ideals of the teaching profession, and encouraging the development of the potential of youth.

The Beta Lambda Chapter hosted the 92nd National Anniversary Convention in the Twin City Quarter on July 12-16, 2015. The conference theme was "Embracing the Standards, Raising the Bar: Equity - Quality Education for All. And Still We Rise!" About 700 educators and guests from across the nation joined in the celebration.

Phi Delta Kappa members from across the United States were invited to participate in an initiative to support literacy efforts by bringing books or making a monetary contribution to Beta Lambda Chapter for the book collection.

"Many thanks to everyone for supporting the efforts of the National Sorority of Phi Delta Kappa Inc.," the Beta Lambda Chapter said in a statement. It named the following: Charlotte M. Williams, national president; Patsy O. Squire, local president; the chapter's Anthropos, "the Men in
