

Photo by Erin Mizelle

Ernie Pitt, publisher emeritus of The Chronicle, presents longtime Chronicle employee Paulette Lewis Moore with a Community Service Award.

Paulette Lewis Moore Community Service Award

For over 23 years, Paulette Lewis Moore has been with The Chronicle, serving in positions as an inserter, typist, newsroom and circulation clerk, and presently administrative secretary.

Moore is a product of Anderson High School Class of 1970, and attended Winsalm Business College, Rutledge Business College, McLean's Tutoring School and Forsyth Technical Community College.

As a member of Mt. Olive Baptist Church, Moore sings in The Gospel Choir, Young & Adult Choir, Mass Choir, and is a member of the Senior Dance Ministry. She is also a member of the Pastor's Aid, a greeter, and a member of the Welcome Committee.

Moore is married to her best friend, Reggie L. Moore, Sr., and is the mother of two adult children, Shonta Lewis-Fleming, a counselor at Samaritan Ministries, and Shonette Lewis, a pre-k teacher at North Hills Elementary School. She is the proud grandmother of Keyla Lewis-Fleming, a freshman/cheerleader at North Carolina Central University, and Sean Lewis, a 3rd grade student at North Hills Elementary School. In her spare time, she enjoys attending sports activities to support her grandchildren.

Photo by Charles Leftwich

Attendees at the Reynolds American Inc. table listen during the program.

THE CHRONICLE

Ernest H. Pitt
Publisher Emeritus

Donna Rogers
Managing Editor

Ron Rogers
Designer

Tevin Stinson
Staff Writer, Photographer

Judie Holcomb-Pack
Copy Editor

Elaine Pitt
Business Manager

Wali D. Pitt
Digital Manager

Shayna Smith
Advertising Representative

Paulette Moore
Elisha Covington
Office Staff

Erin Mizelle
Charles Leftwich
Photographers

Contact Us

To send news items, email
news@wschronicle.com.

For advertising rates or subscriptions, call 336-722-8624, email adv@wschronicle.com or go to www.wschronicle.com.