June 24 – Ekphrastic Night at the Museum

Winston-Salem Writers and New Winston Museum are partnering for a Ekphrastic Night at the Museum on Friday, June 24, from 6 – 9 p.m. (Ekphrastic: q device in which one medium of art tries to connect to another medium by defining and describing it in an effort to relate more directly with its audience.) Writers are asked to stop by the museum between now and June 24 to view the "Birth of the Cool" photography exhibit by Owens Daniels and write a poem or spoken word piece that is inspired by one of the photos. On June 24, writers will read their pieces. Lorraine Boland, jazz and blues vocalist, will perform, and Alex Baum will play guitar and provide background music as the writers read their works. This is a free event. Light refreshments will be served. For more information, visit www.newwinston.org.

June 25 – Winston's Got Talent

The first Neighbors for Better Neighborhoods' Winston's Got Talent show will be held on Saturday, June 25, from 8-10 p.m. at Mt. Zion Baptist Church, 950 File St. For more information, call Beth Warford at 336-602-2519.

June 25-26 –Amateur Radio Field Day

Members of the Forsyth Amateur Radio Club will be participating in the national Amateur Radio Field Day exercise, June 25-26 at Hobby Park, 2301 W. Clemmonsville Road. The public is invited, Saturday, 2 p.m. to Sunday, 2 p.m. to see demonstrations of the science and skill of Amateur Radio. For more information about Field Day, contact Deryl Holliday at dholliday@triad.rr.com.

June 26 - Sounds of Summer organ concert

Old Salem Museums & Gardens is presenting a free organ concert on Sunday, June 26 at 7 p.m. in the James A. Gray, Jr. Auditorium in the Old Salem Visitor Center at 900 Old Salem Road. Organists Scott Carpenter, Mary Lou Kapp Peoples, and Dreama Lovitt will perform a concert on the 1800 David Tannenberg Organ. The Tannenberg Organ is the largest surviving pipe organ built by David Tannenberg (1728-1804), who is widely regarded as one of America's greatest organ builders. For more information, call 336-721-7300 or visit oldsalem.org.

Beginning June 27 - Summer Camps for Kids

Limited spaces are still available for the Reynolda House Museum's popular Summer Adventures half-day camps for children. Art and writing camps are available starting June 27 and continuing through July for students who have completed grades kindergarten through fifth grade, and an advanced writing workshop camp is offered for students who have completed sixth through ninth grades. All camps include exploring the full museum and grounds, and swimming in the historic pool. The museum is located at 2250 Reynolda Rd. Find more information and register online at reynoldahouse.org/summer-adventures.

June 30 – Insects in the Garden workshop

Forsyth Community Gardening will present a workshop on "Insects in the Garden: Attracting Beneficials, Managing Pests," on Thursday, June 30, from 6-8 p.m., at El Buen Pastor Community Garden, 4637 Tim Rd. The workshop is free, but registration is required. To register online, go to <http://tinyurl.com/FCG-SGS>, or call 336-703-2850. The first 30 participants to register will receive Mac's Field Guide to Good & Bad Garden Bugs.

July 11-15 – LEGO Robotics camp

Winston-Salem State University will offer two camps which will run July 11-15 for middle and high school students and elementary school students. The LEGO Robotics camp, for 7th through 10th grade students, offers progressive approaches to instruction and the provided kits serve as the foundation for the very popular FIRST LEGO League extra-curricular and after-school activities and competitions. The benefits to each student include: hands-on education, meets national learning standards, integrates STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, Mathematics), builds teamwork, and work that is fun and challenging. Registrations are still being accepted. The cost for the camp is $150.

The second camp, for elementary school students in grades 3-5, will offer a math, science and literacy component. Space is limited to 30 students, 10 for each grade level. The cost for this camp is $25. Registration still available at <http://www.wssu.edu/centers/cmste/prec-ollege-program/summer-scholars.aspx>. Both are day camps and run from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information about these two camps, contact Joseph Baker, pre-college coordinator in the Center for Mathematics, Science and Technology at 336-750-2996 or email bakerjc@wssu.edu.

Through Labor Day - Program for Military Families

Reynolda House, 2250 Reynolda Rd., will again participate in the Blue Star Museums Program through Labor Day by offering free admission to members of the military and their family. The Winston-Salem museum is one of more than 2,000 museums across the country to offer free admission to military families in collaboration with the National Endowment for the Arts, Blue Star Families, and the Department of Defense. This is the seventh year Reynolda House has participated in the program. The free admission offer is available through Sept. 4 to active-duty military and their family members (military ID holder and up to five family members) including Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, Coast Guard, and active duty National Guard and active duty Reserve members. The complete list of participating museums is available at arts.gov/bluestarmuseums. Reynolda House extends free individual admission year-round to active and veteran military personnel.

Going on now - Bulky Item Collection Returning

The city's annual bulky item pick-up will continue through Sept. 2. Crews will go through the city street by street, collecting bulky items that garbage crews cannot accept. Furniture, mattresses, appliances, grills, carpet, old toys, and lawn furniture can all be set out. The city cannot collect televisions, computer equipment, building materials, hazardous waste, tires, cement, cars and car parts, stumps, tanks and oil drums, fire wood or yard waste. Do not mix bulky items with yard waste, recyclables or brush. Bulky item collection is for single family residences, not businesses or apartments. The Sanitation Division will mail post cards in advance to let home owners know when bulky item collection will be held in their neighborhood. Crews will go through each neighborhood only once. To ensure collection, items must be at the curb by 6 a.m. the Monday of your collection week. To find out your collection week, go to BulkyItems.CityofWS.org and click on the link for online address lookup. Residents without computer access can call CityLink at 311 or 727-8000 and a CityLink agent will look up the collection date.
