wanted to redeem themselves against Prep.

"They did not want to lose so we went back to some of the basics that we had been practicing," Day said. "They are really competitive and with the loss last Thursday, they were a little comfortable in the first half because they thought they were a lot better than Prep. Once the second half started they turned their motivation up."

Isaiah Sales was able to bring Prep closer with a late goal, bringing the score to 5-3. Vance Barbour of East Forsyth quickly answered with a goal of his own to close out the scoring for the game.

Coach Leach said he knows his team is somewhat thin with not having many subs but is pleased with the effort of the guys on the bench. He says his guys will continue to progress throughout the season.

"From the first game to the second game, we saw a lot of improvement. We kept the score down and it was only the inexperience of our goalie when we subbed out that might have been the difference in the game. We will tighten up at our goalie position and get our midfield a little bit stronger. I think we will be good going forward through the season," says Leach.

up field more often instead of looking to bounce every run to the outside looking for the homerun carry.

Reynolds continued to pile up yardage on the ground and points on the scoreboard when Hood scores from 15 yards out to bring the score to 13-3. Following a fumble by the Demons, the Mustangs continued to ride Dillard. Two plays into the drive Dillard found a hole and scampered 25 yards and found the end zone to bring them within 3.

The Mustangs scored another touchdown before the end of the half, giving them a 16-13 lead going into intermission. Reynolds head coach Rod Dunlap says he was not surprised by the tenacity the Mustangs played with all game but happy his team was able to hang on to the victory.

"Sometimes we are a little immature and that's what we showed. We got up early and the guys got complacent so we knuckled down and got on them at halftime and made some minor adjustments," said Dunlap. "We are a second-half team, for some reason we are a second-half team and we like to grind and we won't give up until it's zeros on the clock and that's what they showed."

Starting the second half neither offense was able to sustain a scoring drive. Reynolds running back Desmond Hood changed that running one in from the 12 to give the lead back to the Demons 21-16. Mustang quarterback

Tyrone Barber quickly answered the Reynolds score with a touchdown pass to Chase Rorie early in the final quarter to give them the lead once again at 22-21.

The turning point in the game was a fumble by the Mustangs deep in their own territory. The fourth quarter turnover led to the go ahead Reynolds touchdown putting them up 29-22. The Demons added another touchdown late in the game to seal the win.

Coach Atwater says they spoke about overcoming adversity all week in practice and to fight hard to find the endzone.

"As far as coming back and mentally staying tough they knew we had this game," said Atwater. "I think Reynolds knows they got a gift. It was a good game but we were facing a lot of guys with a lot of experience."

Parkland will face off against Reagan for their next game. Reynolds will take on Mt. Tabor, their cross town rival, in a battle of the unbeaten.

monsoon like conditions and win 24-0.

From the first possession of the game both teams had trouble holding on to the ball. Atkins fumbled on a hand off, which was recovered by Glenn and run back for a touchdown for the first score. Atkins followed that drive with another fumble that was recovered by Glenn once again.

Glenn converted the Camel turnover into more points when wide receiver Christen Wilson caught his first of three touchdown passes of the night to put the Bobcats up 12-0. Atkins was able to hold onto the ball on their next possession but with the Glenn defense line overwhelmed the Atkins offensive lineman their running backs had little room to run.

The Bobcats were bitten by the turnover bug as well as they fumbled on their next set of downs, which gave Atkins some life. With the rain coming down even harder, the Camels fumbled once again, and Glenn recovered. While driving for another score, Glenn fumbles and two plays later Atkins does the same.

Later in the drive Wilson catches another touchdown making the score 18-0. Both offenses get bogged down when the rain intensifies, forcing punts from each team. Unfortunately while trying to field a punt, the Atkins return man muffed the ball and it was recovered inside the 10 yard line by Glenn, setting them up for another scoring opportunity.

With under a minute left in the first half of play, Glenn took over at the 27 yard line following a shanked punt by the Atkins punter. Wilson caught his third and final touchdown before the half ended.

The game was called due to lightning in the area. With the Bobcats leading 24-0 the game was decided to be a final at that point.
