ambitious expansion of its Winston-Salem campus. A seasoned senior living industry professional, Koniszewski spent the past 12 years as CFO of Philadelphia-based Simpson Senior Services. The Simpson Senior Services owns three continuing care retirement communities, two senior housing properties and provides services to more than 900 residents. In the spring, Salemtowne will open Winston-Salem's first "neighborhood" concept for skilled nursing, a $42 million health care and rehabilitation center featuring four clusters of private home environments.

Three of the neighborhoods will offer long-term skilled nursing with a fourth offering a memory support program for those with Alzheimer's and dementia. The new skilled nursing building will include 40 private rooms that focus on short-term rehabilitation for Salemtowne residents and the wider community, a service requested by area hospitals.

nothing perfect ... but Christ who is the fulfillment of the law brings a "better hope" (verse 19). Referring to God's oath in Psalm 110:4, Paul says Christ was made a priest. Verse 21 then starts to list the differences in Christ's priesthood and that of the Levitical priesthood. Levites were made priest without an oath. Christ was given an oath by God. Christ's priesthood was permanent and unchangeable versus the Levites, who would eventually die and have to be replaced. Because high priests were mortal and sinful, they could not qualify to make atonement for sin or intercession for sinners without first atoning for themselves, daily. Christ however, made one sacrifice of Himself as payment or atonement for all humanity (verses 26-27). We conclude with the fact that God confirmed Christ as High Priest (verse 28).

For Consideration: What does Your mean for the Law to have made nothing perfect? Do we really need a High Priest?

Life's Application: We can now go to God ourselves because Jesus is our high priest. His ministry on our behalf causes our prayers to be heard. "It is one thing to pray, but it's another thing for God to hear our prayers and move on our behalf. This is what it means to have Jesus as our High Priest." (UMI Annual Commentary 2016-2017)

J.R. Stowe, who has been at the church for a little over a year, says "after talking with some members of the church, it was long overdue.

"Its an opportunity for the women to come together as one, the men to come together as one and the church to come together as one," said Bishop Stowe. "At some churches it's a competitive venture, but at this one, we are just doing it for the church."

The women led during the morning service and Dean-Arnette spoke on a message titled "Praise Is What I Do." She touched on how people should be grateful and glorify God in everything they do. She went on to speak about the highs and lows of her life and that when she was at her lowest point she asked God for help and he answered her prayers.

"I just found that it's a pleasure to speak because I need to tell my story to people," said Dean-Arnette. "I always speak from experience and I try to let people know that if God brought me through things, he will bring them through it also."

Dean-Arnette continued by saying, "People sometimes see me and feel like I've got it going on and that she has arrived but I have not arrived yet and God is still working on my life. I will always praise him no matter what's going on in my life."

For the men's service, Minister Arnette spoke about if your home represents God's house. Referencing Joshua 24:15, as for me and my house we will serve the Lord, Arnette stated that as Christians our homes should reflect the house of the Lord.

"You have to make decisions based on the Word of God that's going to affect your house, so will those decisions be in line with the Word of God or will it be contrary to the Word of God," Arnette continued.

Dean-Arnette is a member of Morning Star Baptist church, where her pastor is Dr. Dennis Leach. She says she likes to live by her motto "Praise is what I do, even when I'm going through."

You can hear Dean-Arnette Sunday mornings from 8:30 a.m. to 11 a.m. and on weekdays from noon till 2 p.m.
