William Randolph McIntire (Mr. and Mrs. McIntire are the parents of Mrs. Leslie B. Clark, who has been residing in this city for the past year or more.)

Silver Wedding Celebration

One of the most beautiful and brilliant affairs of the season was the one of yesterday evening, when Mr. and Mrs. J. Turner Farish threw wide their hospitable doors to greet their many friends in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. When a large number of friends called to extend their congratulations on this interesting occasion.

The handsome home had been made exceedingly attractive with its artistic arrangement of white and green. Massed on either side of the broad stairway, and extending to the top, were quantities of magnolia leaves, while gleaming among this glossy foliage were numberless white and green electric-bells, magnificent palms, and tall redars were on either side of the stairway, while large silver candelabra, holding tall white tapers, added beauty to the scene.

The guests were graciously greeted by Mr. Paul J. Biting and Miss Grace Whitaker, and invited into the next drawing-room, where tall palms and cedar formed a charming background for the host and hostess, who stood under an exquisite wedding bell, made of lovely white chrysanthemums, and white tulle, and lighted with electric bulbs.

Prettily lighting the mantel were candelabra, holding cathedral candles, while glossy magnolia leaves and gorgeous white chrysanthemums added their quota to the decorations.

Receiving with Mr. and Mrs. Farish were: Mrs. L. P. Biting, Mrs. James J. Thomas and Mrs. Thomas of Raleigh, Dr. D. N. Dalton and Mrs. Dalton, Mrs. D. D. Shelton, Mr. William N. Reynolds and Mrs. Reynolds, Mr. Charles Shelton and Mrs. Shelton, Mr. Walter Leak and Mrs. Leak, and Mr. Robert Williamson.

Never did Mrs. Farish look happier than on this occasion in her magnificent gown of silver cloth, draped in silver net, and starred with rhinestones.

The tunic, front and back, was rich with its many rhinestones, mingled with ornaments in pastel shades, her bouquet of roses and lilies of the valley completing this effective costume.

Mrs. Thomas wore an elegant gown of black satin, draped in jetted net and trimmed with silver dotted net.

Mrs. John Hanes invited the visitors from the west to the east drawing-room, where refreshing punch was dispensed by Mrs. Ernest Beverly Jones from a lovely punch bowl, wreathed in luscious grapes and graceful vines. As sitting in serving were Misses Louise Barham, May Lebrack and Louise Shelton. Here, as throughout the home, wonderful white chrysanthemums were seen.

Meslames W. B. Taylor and William Wilson presided in the beautiful dining room, where the prevailing tone of green and white was emphasized, on the handsome mahogany table, with its elegant luncheon cloth, rested an exquisite white pyramidal cake.

Here an elaborate and elegant supper course and cream course were served, Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Rucker directed the guests upstairs, where a beautiful array of elegant silver was seen, loving gifts from friends.

All through the evening, entrancing music was furnished by Crouse's band. Altogether, this was a most charming social event, and will be among the delightful memories of Winston-Salem society people.

UNCLE SAM RUNS A BOOKSTORE

"A bookstore occupying a seven-story building is owned and operated by the United States government at Washington, D. C., according to an article in the current issue of Farm and Fireside, the national farm paper published in Springfield, Ohio.

An extract of the article follows: "The store is not general bookstore; it sells the output of only one publisher—the United States government.

"The largest printing establishment in the world is maintained by the government at Washington. The products of the printing office are varied in character and practical in use.

"The government publications include reports of the legislative, executive, financial, postal, military, naval, judicial, scientific, and other departments of the government. The results are printed for the instruction and practical use of all of the people.

"The Superintendent of Documents, who is the manager of the government bookstore, receives an immense mail every day from different parts of the United States and from many foreign countries. The Superintendent of Documents also takes subscriptions for forty-two government periodicals."

IN SUCH PAIN WOMAN CRIED

Suffered Everything Until Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Florence, So. Dakota.—"I used to be very sick every month with bearing down pains and backache, and had headache a good deal of the time and very little appetite. The pains were so bad that I used to sit right down on the floor and cry, because it hurt me so and I could not do any work at those times. An old woman advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I got a bottle. I felt better the next month so I took three more bottles of it and got well so I could work all the time. I hope every woman who suffers like I did will try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound." Mrs. F. W. LANGRISH, Box 8, Allen, Wash.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out or day out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Hingham, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

EDUCATION WAS THE SUBJECT OF THE DISCUSSION

Christian Education Discussed at Christian Conference at Durham

MANY SPLENDID ADDRESSES MADE

(R. M. Redding, Conference Correspondent)

Durham, Nov. 25.—The second day evening session of the Christian Conference was given over to the consideration of Christian Education. The devotional services were conducted by Rev. C. C. Peck, after which Rev. J. V. Atkinson, D. D., read the committee's report. This was one of the most important reports of the whole conference, since it is the one to which all the ministers to the conference are attached.

The report gave endorsement to the idea of Christian education and special commendation to the college, the college fostered by the conference as an exponent of that idea. It commended the college for having adopted a policy of internal improvement as against a further increase in numbers. It revealed its faith in the small college as furnishing superior advantages for the development of Christian character.

The report also suggested a substantial increase in the funds to be raised this year for the support of the conference and called upon the churches to do their part for these aged servants of the conference.

An address was delivered by Dr. W. A. Harper, president of Elm College, entitled, "The Christian Doctrine of Education." Five minutes were given for the belief in such a doctrine. Next, the leaders of the Bible abstracts at throughout all periods of Scriptural times from the old of Abraham to the wonderful career of Paul. Second, the doctrine was shown to be inextricably wrapped up in the other doctrines of the Bible. Third, the Commandments of the Bible cannot be carried out without the possession of such a doctrine.

The speaker stated that we would have no Bible study that we would have no Christian education had been a correct fact throughout the history of the church. In closing, the speaker spoke of the method to be employed in the realization of the doctrine which was shown to be according to Scripture three fold: Teaching, the force of example and training up for definite Christian service.

Following the address by Dr. Harper, Rev. W. W. Staley, president of the Southern Christian conference, outlined the subject of the conference, "The New Preparation for the Ministry." Dr. Staley's new book, "The Ministry," had presented the conference for a great message. They did not fail to realize that Dr. Staley began by saying that who was preparing for the ministry, was one who could not be regarded as a preparation in another. He said that the typical clergyman of the past century did not all the full demands of the millenary demand of the date of the modern world. The ministry today is not to be a child that in former days, had been a man and he would be willing to undertake the work that may become a man. Education and social service are added to the old and new, confronting the modern church. The ministers' post must not be long and only therefore to proclaim the truths of the gospel, but to apply them to the larger world.

The afternoon session was given over to the meeting of the missionary organizations of the conference, the Young Men's Association, meeting in the high school and the Young Women's Union and the Young Men's Union, meeting in the high school.

Immediately following these meetings the two bodies met jointly and heard a masterly missionary address by Dr. J. C. Atkinson, the theme being "The Missionary Conference."

Morning Session
Rev. P. E. Kegan, the newly elected president of the Christian Conference, presided at the morning session, 11:30 a. m. Rev. A. P. Peck, Moderator.

FIVE DELEGATES WERE SELECTED BY CONFERENCE

Will Attend General Conference of A.M.E. Church Next Year at Pittsburg

(By Charles E. Stewart)

Rev. S. C. Holt, presiding elder of the Durham district of the Western North Carolina district, his home being in Greensboro, 424 THOMAS ST. was elected by his ministerial colleagues to lead his delegation of five members before the 24th session of the General Conference of the A. M. E. Church which meets in Philadelphia, Pa. in 1916. Mr. Holt has been a member of this conference for over 29 years and has been a presiding elder for over 18 years.

He is a representative of Shaw University at Raleigh, N. C., an Augustinian School at Raleigh, N. C., and an honor student of Berea College at Berea, Ky. He has done more for the church in the South than any other minister in the South. He is one of the ablest in point of service and most influential colored ministers in the South. Dr. J. E. Jackson, presiding elder of the Greensboro district, was elected chief of the delegation. Dr. Jackson is a representative of the younger men of the conference, he being a former student of Shaw University and Kirtland College. He is one of the most aggressive of ministers and has a spiritual strength in his work which is most admirable. Dr. J. W. Walker, a former student of Shaw University and Rev. A. D. Avery, formerly of Kirtland College, were also elected as delegates.

The election was a most spirited one. Feeling of good fellowship pervaded the whole proceedings. Dr. J. E. Jackson presiding over the conference, presided over the election.

Young women representing missionary societies of the A. M. E. Church with headquarters in New York City, was present and was presented to the conference. Rev. J. E. C. Barham, their minister, was also present and made a most interesting remarks.

During the day a special Thanksgiving service was presided by the Rev. Dr. Gordon W. Nicholas, pastor of the Theological Department of Kirtland College, who had for his text the second verse of the 2nd chapter of Isaiah and spoke of thank for our thanks for a return of Christ for our sins. He also spoke of the country's economic development during the past year and the many opportunities which had been offered the church in work and service and the much good which has been done at home and abroad for which all should be thankful.

Several ministers of the conference visited the Slater Normal School and referred to a Thanksgiving service by Rev. Dr. J. C. Caldwell, general secretary of the A. M. E. Church, with headquarters in Nashville, Tenn.

The growth of the Slater School has been phenomenal during the past few years and during the visit of the ministers, Dr. J. E. Jackson, the president of the school, saw the removal of many conditions which were the result of the school's development of the school to a condition to the ability of the Slater students to construct for and erect buildings of the larger type, this building being built by preference of the Slater School.

At the evening session a special missionary session was presided by Rev. J. E. Holt of Hamlet, N. C., who selected for his text Mark XVI:13. He very graphically told of the origin, growth, and spiritual benefits of the missionary work of the church for the many years past, and in his usual optimistic spirit told of the possibilities, determinations and opportunities for the future church. Friday afternoon will be known as missionary afternoon for the women of the conference. Friday evening will be held an educational music meeting at which special addresses will be delivered by Dr. C. G. Orkley, president of F. W. College, and by Prof. J. B. Hawkins, financial secretary of the A. M. E. Church, with headquarters in Washington, D. C.

CURED BOY OF CROUP

Nothing frightens a mother more than the loud, hoarse cough of croup. Labored breathing, strangling, choking and gasping for breath demand instant action. Mrs. T. Neuvier, Eau Claire, Wis., says: "Foley's Honey and Tar cured my boy of croup after other remedies failed." Recommended for coughs and colds. E. W. O'Flanigan.
