[SPECIAL NO. 59.] Instructions to suppress the unauthorized production of Alcoholic Spirits and Vapors.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, Office of Internal Revenue, Washington, July 25, 1868. The provisions of section four of the act of July 20, 1868, are as follows:

"See. 4. And be it further enacted, That distilled spirits, spirits, alcohol, and alcoholic spirits, within the true intent and meaning of this set, is that substance on the 23d ultimo, John M. Lorance, aged known as ethyl alcohol, hydrated oxide 70 years. P. Blair, we recognize the experienced legislator and gallant soldier; and both shall made or fermented in any building or on any premises other than a distillery duly Resolved. That we approve of the call for authorized according to law; and no such tillery before being distilled; and no person other than an authorized distiller shall by distillation, or by any other process, separate the alcoholic spirits from any fermented mash, wort, or wash; and no person shall use spirits or alcohol, or any vapor of alcoholic spirits, in manufacturing vinegar or any other article, or in any process of manufacture whatever, unless the spirits or alcohol so used shall have been produced in an authorized distillery and the tax thereon paid. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this section shall be fined, for every offence, not less than five hundred dollars nor more than five thousand dollars, and imprisoned for not less than six months nor more than two years : Provided, that nothing in this section shall be construed to apply to fermented liquors."

The object of this section was evidently to enable the Internal Revenue office to suppress all manner of distillation of spirits not expressly authorized by law. and to collect the tax on all alcoholic spirits manufactured. The laws existing prior to this act were found to be inefficient, and all efforts to secure a uniform enforcement of them were frustrated by a disagreement among the courts in different sections of the country as to the proper construction of such laws. The meaning of this section, however, cannot be a matter of doubt. Under it, no article into which alcoholie spirits or alcoholic vapors enter as an ingredient can be lawfully hol bave been produced in an authorized distillery and have paid the tax.

The largest class of cases affected by this section is that of the manufacturers of vinegar by various processes of distillation. Many of these manufacturers have been honestly engaged in the business of making vinegar with no intention to defraud the revenue; while many others, under the pretence of making vinegar alone, Congress has made no discrimination, and the provisions of this section were intended to close all such manufactories.

In order that equal and uniform justice may be done to all persons engaged in this business, Assessors and Collectors will at once take steps to advise those in their respective districts of the terms of the law, and the purpose of the Department to require full compliance with its provis- a. E. cowas, to carry on, the business prohibited by June27; with this section, after being so advised, they will institute proceedings under its penal
