

The Post
Reaches Nearly
75 Per Cent
More Negro
Readers

THE CHARLOTTE POST

"Charlotte's Fastest Growing Community Weekly"

Your Best
Advertising
Medium In The
Lucrative Black Market
Call 392-1306

VOL 2 NO. 13

CHARLOTTE, NORTH CAROLINA 28206-THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 13, 1973

Price 20¢

Sharon Elaine Ellerby

12-Year-Old Is Our Beauty

SHARON ELLERBY is this week's CHARLOTTE POST BEAUTY. The petite 90 pounder is the 12 year old daughter of Mrs. Mae Frances Ellerby of 2447 Olando Street in the Druid Hills Residential section of Charlotte.

Sharon is 4 feet 11 inches tall and is a rising 7th grader at Albemarle Road Junior High School.

She attended Druid Hills Elementary School last year where she was a member of the school's dance group.

Sharon, who says she sings contralto, plans to join the chorus this year at Albemarle Road Junior High School.

Miss Ellerby attends St. Luke Baptist Church. The pastor is Reverend Parker. Sharon's hobbies are sewing, collecting coins, visiting with her friends, bowling and playing putt putt golf.

She says she has 12 coins that she is very proud of, one is from South America, one from India, one from Spain, and the rest from America.

Her favorite bowling alley is Freedom Lanes and she says she rolls in the 70's.

Thirty-two was her best score while playing putt putt at Goony Golf on Independence Blvd.

Sharon says she has a "lot of fun" visiting her good friend, Edith Norwell at her home on Rachel Street. Edith is also Sharon's classmate.

"We observed that Sharon is a very active and charming young lady and expect big things from her in the future."

Sharon is 4 feet 11 inches tall and is a rising 7th grader at Albemarle Road Junior High School.

She attended Druid Hills Elementary School last year where she was a member of the school's dance group.

Sharon, who says she sings contralto, plans to join the chorus this year at Albemarle Road Junior High School.

Miss Ellerby attends St. Luke Baptist Church. The pastor is Reverend Parker. Sharon's hobbies are sewing, collecting coins,

At West Charlotte

City-Wide Revival Crusade Kicks-Off Here Sunday

McQuilkin Joins JCSU Board

Arthur J. Clement, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Johnson C. Smith University, has announced that George McQuilkin, III has been named to its membership. Mr. McQuilkin, a native of New Jersey, has spent a large portion of his working life in Charlotte and is presently Director of Industry and Community Affairs for the Kendall Company. Prior to joining Kendall he was employed by the Securities and Exchange Commission. At Kendall, he has held several positions, first, in the financial division as accountant and controller, later, as Vice President and General Manager.

Mr. McQuilkin is active locally as a director of United Community Services and Junior Achievement. He also serves as member of the Metropolitan Financial Planning Council and of the Steering Committee of the Community Action Council of the Charlotte Chamber of Commerce.

His term at the Johnson C. Smith University Board of Trustees will become effective this month. Of his appointment, Dr. Wilbert Greenfield, President made these remarks, "Johnson C. Smith University is certainly happy to have such an outstanding citizen and businessman on its Board. We are sure that he will prove an asset to the University; therefore, we heartily commend the Board for adding George McQuilkin to its list of constituents."

GOLFERS JIM McCLURE AND CARL LOVE following their final round in last week's Greater Griertown Open Golf Tournament at the Sunset Hills Golf Course. (Photo by Peeler)

Aid To Black Colleges Increased 124 Percent

Federal aid to the Nation's predominantly black colleges and universities increased 124 percent over the past four years, HEW Secretary Caspar W. Weinberger announced today.

The increase, Weinberger said, from $108 million in fiscal year 1969 to $242 million in fiscal year 1972, "represents a clear demonstration of this Administration's continuing efforts to assure the well-being of a vital segment of the Nation's postsecondary resources."

The Secretary disclosed highlights of an annual study of Federal program aid to black colleges conducted by the Federal Interagency Committee on Education (FICE), of which Assistant Secretary of Education Sidney P. Marland, Jr., is chairman.

According to the study, predominantly black institutions enrolled 2.6 percent of all college students in academic year 1972-73 and received 5.5 percent of Federal funds going to higher education.

During the 1972-73 academic year, the year in which the major portion of fiscal year 1972 funds were spent, the 114 predominantly black schools enrolled 246,219 of the 9,297,787 students in all colleges and universities.

P. O. Offers New Services

Officer in charge O.B. Sloan announced today that a new "Stamps by Mail" Service will be offered in the Charlotte area, beginning September 17.

According to Officer in charge, O.B. Sloan, this new service will permit customers to purchase stamps and stamped envelopes through the mail using a personal check or money order.

Black colleges received 82 percent of their Federal funds from HEW, according to the FICE study. In contrast, other colleges and universities received only 71 percent of their Federal support from HEW.

In all, 15 Federal departments or agencies provided approximately $4.4 billion to the Nation's colleges and universities.

Of the $197 million provided predominantly black institutions by HEW, the Office of Education allotted $165 million. The Office of Education assistance to black colleges represented more than half of all Federal support to these institutions.

The next largest amount in HEW came from the National Institutes of Health, which provided almost $21 million.

Outside HEW, the primary sources of Federal aid to black colleges were the Department of Agriculture and the National Science Foundation. The Department of Agriculture provided over $13 million, and the National Science Foundation provided more than $9 million.

Eighty-four of the black colleges -- 74 percent -- received more than $1 million each in Federal funds, according to the study.

Mr. Sloan noted that "This service will be of great benefit to all our customers and especially shut-ins, the elderly and working wives. It will enable them to satisfy their postal needs simply, rapidly and inexpensively from their own homes."

A 40c fee will be charged to defray the cost of two-way postage.

Dr. Lambert To Head Nightly Services

A nationally known minister and a popular Black sheriff will lead a City-Wide Revival Crusade here this week.

Sponsored by the University Park Baptist Church, the crusade will begin here Sunday afternoon with Thomas E. Gilmore, sheriff of Green County, Ala., as the guest speaker.

Rev. James E. Palmer, pastor at the University Park Baptist Church, said the opening services will be held at West Charlotte Senior High School Auditorium in order to "better accommodate the large number of people interested in hearing this great speaker."

The services will begin at 6 p.m.

Beginning Monday night and ending Friday night, the crusade will be continued at the University Park Baptist Church at the corner of Keller Ave. and Senior Dr.

Nightly services are scheduled to begin at 7:30 o'clock under the leadership of Dr. E.D. Lambert pastor of the Historic Truevieve Baptist Church in Mobile, Ala.

According to Rev. Palmer, Gilmore attended Selma University and later worked with the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. He was beaten many times for demonstrating and was once placed in the jail he now commands.

Gilmore was defeated in his first attempt to gain office but he was elected the second time he ran for the office of sheriff. He is presently serving as the pastor of St. Luke Baptist Church in Green County. Gilmore is married and is the father of four boys.

Dr. Lambert also attended Selma where he earned his A.B. and B.D. degrees and was later awarded the Doctor of Divinity degree from his alma mater. He is married and is the father of one daughter and two sons.

6,100 To Attend UNCC This Fall

The University of North Carolina at Charlotte has counted an 18 percent increase in enrollment for the fall semester, again running counter to a national trend of leveling off in enrollments.

Enrollment for the fall semester at UNCC is approximately 6,100 as compared to 5,159 last year.

Of the total, 47 persons are graduate students. There are more than 900 new freshmen.

Here Sunday

Little Rock Church To Hear Dr. Lewis

The Little Rock A.M.E. Zion Church, 403 North Myers Street, will celebrate Woman's Day on Sunday at 11:00 a.m.

The speaker for the celebration will be Dr. Bertha Roach Lewis, Coordinator of the Model Cities Neighborhood Agent Program.

Dr. Lewis is a native Charlottean who has lifted herself by her own "bootstraps". Born the six daughter of very poor and humble parents, our speaker through her efforts, zeal, and contributions is today one of the most respected members of the Charlotte Community.

After having completed the public schools of Charlotte, Dr. Lewis successfully completed the following:

Leadership Training Courses, Johnson C. Smith University; Paraprofessional Indigenous, Social worker's workshop, Johnson C. Smith University; and the Workshop, Institute of Government and Center for Continuing Education at the University of Georgia.

Dr. Lewis is in great demand as a Consultant and speaker. Her religious and civic affiliations are many. In spite of the many demands on her time, she serves her church, Little Rock A.M.E. Zion on its boards and clubs. Her work in church is matched only by her wide community involvement. Because of her sincere interest in people, her contributions to religious and civic organizations, and her personal achievements, she was recently awarded the degree of Humane Letters.

DR. BERTHA LEWIS
Woman's Day Speaker

Dr. Lewis is a dynamic practical speaker who will bring to this responsibility food for thought and guides for right living. She was born in Charlotte, the sixth daughter of a deaf-mute mother and a partially deaf father. She has two brothers and four sisters, one of which resides with her. An orphan at the age of nine years, she was reared by her great aunt (Minnie L. Johnson) in the fear and trembling of God. She was born and still lives in the first ward section of our city which is part of the Charlotte Model Cities Area. During the early work years of her life, she worked as a domestic and laundry worker.

After taking a close look at herself and the needs of her children, she decided to reach for higher ground. She returned to school and shortly thereafter went to work at the Charlotte area fund as a community worker in 1965. From that she became director of the recreation and day care center for Little Rock A.M.E. Zion Church.

Finally, in 1968, the model cities program began and she got a job as a citizen participation worker and from there to her present position. PLEASE TURN To Page 2

TURTLE-TALK

The reason some parents no longer LEAD their children in the RIGHT DIRECTION is because the parents aren't going in that way THEMSELVES.