Concert

ABC recording artists the Dramatics recently celebrated their 10-year anniversary as a group by headlining a concert at the Pantages Theatre in Hollywood.

At the near-sell out show, the five-man group performed their current R&B chart single, "Ocean of Thoughts and Dreams," which featured lead vocalist Ron Banks in an extended solo spot.

The Dramatics also gave their audience a sneak preview of songs from their forthcoming ABC album, Do What You Want To Do.

SHE'S HAPPY- Singer Roberta Flack radiates with happiness as her young public surrounds her for autographs following the success of her new Atlantic record album,

"Blue Lights In The Basement, which has already passed the million sales mark. Ms. Flack will appear in Charlotte in April.

Amay James Center Sponsors Doll Show

Amay James, Boulevard Homes and Revolution were the three centers that were represented at the annual Doll Show, sponsored by the Charlotte Parks and Recreation Center at 2425 Lester St.

This rainbow colorful display served as a most spectacular event as children of all ages competed for prizes for most unique exhibit. This year's theme for the show was "Wonderland of Dolls." The theme was most representative of the show in that the many different classifications of dolls; mechanical, bride cloth, foreign, stuffed, large, small and others were set amidst a scenery of wall decorations and draped to the setting of the colorful Walt Disney World. The decorations were that of the famous Walt Disney characters: Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, Donna Duck, Winnie The Pooh, Yogi Bear and all sorts of clowns.

Famous doll collectors from over the U. S. judged the best entries in the show. Trophies were awarded to the three runner-ups. First and second place certificates were given in each classification.

A combined first and second place winner was Debbie Williams.

Maxine Ford won the prestige of "Best of Show" for her 28-year-old Toni Doll.

The whole event turned out as a most colorful and inspiraion affair.
