Campanella Will Host "Behind Home Plate"

Hall of Famer Roy Campanella will host "Behind Home Plate," 20 minutes between Mets doubleheader this season for WMCA radio. Roy also will continue his lectures to local schools and colleges under the sponsorship of The New York Bank For Savings, wherein he talks baseball and urges kids to stay in school.

Ida Epps has taken over the late Harry Redd's Ticket-Agency "in the Heart of Harlem," at 2371 Adam Clayton Powell Jr. Boulevard, and is offering tickets for Broadway. Off-Broadway, sports, concerts, broker service, group sales and theatre parties. Agency's theatre party club of the month is planning seeing "Timbuktu" on April 6. Call 281-7486 for info.

Jean Hurd Rogers, soprano soloist with the Virginia Choral Ensemble presented a recital Sunday, April 2 at the Memorial Baptist Church on West 115th Street.

The 11th Annual NAACP Image Awards, now under national sponsorship, though still coming from Hollywood, is making a bid for a prime-time network TV slot this year. A scheduled two-hour spectacular is set for the Century Plaza on June 9.

Chambers Memorial Baptist Church is presenting "Allen's ARC", the gospel choral group of Harlem's Addicts Rehabilitation Center in a benefit concert on Sunday, April 23, at IS 201, 2005 Madison Avenue. Benefit is to help ARC, marking its 21st Anniversary, pay off mortgage on its center at 1881 Park Avenue and Chambers Church to maintain its 88-year old facility at 219 East 123rd Street.

Would anyone turn down Jackie Onassis? The report in publishing circles is that the UN's Andy Young did when Jackie thought she had him and his words locked up for her new publisher, Doubleday, and the ambassador copped for Random House and a better offer.

Sammy Davis, Jr. was making his sixth appearance on the Academy Awards show on April 3 when he performed a ballad celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Oscar awards.

While heavyweight champ Leon Spinks is having the usual troubles that go along with being "champ" like a back rent complaint in Philly and a traffic bust in St. Louis, ex-champ Muhammad Ali is copping all the newspaper ink about his financial woes and his being down to his last $3 million. But Ali also still makes waves for the future. He's scheduled to visit Russia and now producer Glenn Myles of White Bird Productions has announced his plans to make a film in Kenya starring Ali.

Arthur Prysock, the voice of Lowenbrau, is the next attraction at the new Cotton Club at 666 West 125th Street. He's there April 5-17. Ads say "bad old days live again" at the new club. They do. Order of breaded shrimp is $12.75. Sirloin Steak, $17.50.
