

Rev. DeGrandval Burke
Achievements are numerous
Burke Named

To Who's Who

Among Blacks

By Debra Stanley
Post Staff Writer
Rev. DeGrandval Burke has been listed in the 1978 Edition of "Who's Who Among Black Americans."

Born in Matthews, N.C. in 1909, Rev. Burke received his early education in the Mecklenburg County schools. After graduation from Harbison Institute, Irmo, S.C., he graduated from J.C. Smith (Magna Cum Laude) with a B.S. Degree in 1938.

Rev. Burke's list of achievements are numerous, including a M. A. Degree from McCormick Theological Seminary, educator, minister, chairman of various committees, numerous memberships, listing in "Personalities of the South," "Minister of the Year," and many others.

According to a brochure published by "Who's Who Among Black Americans," it is stated that "in implementing demanding yet realistically flexible standards for inclusion in Who's Who Among Black Americans, primary consideration is given to the extent of an individual's reference interest.

In turn, that reference interest, noting in many cases the unique contributions of Black Americans in an evolving but still restricted society, focuses on two factors: 1) the position of responsibility held and 2) the level of significant achievement attained in a career of meritorius activity. Admissions based on individual achievement are determined by various criteria qualitatively compiled for the various spheres of activity. To be selected on this basis, an individual must have accomplished some conspicuous achievement—something that distinguishes him from the vast majority of his contemporaries," the statement concluded.

Obviously, Rev. Burke has achieved prominence in the Black Community and has been a significant figure in American progress and culture.

We at the Post would like to extend our most sincere congratulations to Rev. Burke for this accomplishment.
