

UNCC Enrolls 16

Foreign Students

Sixteen students from Libya, Kuwait, and Iran are the first to enroll in UNCC's English Language Training Institute, according to Dr. Gian

Sud, associate dean for international education. The course is basically a pre-program for enrollment at UNCC. Students will attend a six-month program in comprehensive English. Two teachers skilled in teaching English to foreign students have been employed. They are Som Datt Sharma, and Karen Youngman.

The student's day is divided into two parts. In the first part the students will have the normal classroom setup covering grammar, vocabulary, reading, writing and comprehension. In the second part, the students may audit a class and will have a chance to work with a professor on a one-to-one basis.

To orient the students to the American culture, there will be assignments such as watching two television programs a week and submitting a summary in their own language, reading three newspaper editorials and writing a summary, and excursions, such as a tour to see the fall leaves.

Once a week a colloquium will be offered when the students will address faculty and interested citizens on subjects dealing with their home countries.

Dr. Sud said attempts will be made to make the students comfortable with using English by helping them overcome shyness, cultural shock, lack of English facility, and lack of understanding of American testing methods.

Dr. Sud said that invitations to homes will be welcome for the students.

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Senator Robert Morgan (D-N.C.) (left) greets Fred D. Miller and wife, Cherry Miller, of 2637 Rachel St. in Charlotte, during a recent vacation to Washington arranged by James T. Tripplet and Company of Charlotte in recognition of Miller's fifty-one years of service to the Company. The Millers spent a week touring the area, which included visits to the Smithsonian Institution, Mount Vernon, Arlington Cemetery, the White House, and the Capitol. During the weekend, the Millers flew to New York City to see the fourth game of the World Series.

Cecelia Robinson To Vie For Carrousel Honors

by Susan Ellsworth
Post Staff Writer

Cecelia Robinson, recently chosen as the Miss East Carrousel Princess will vie for the title—Carrousel Queen of 1978 at a festive pageant to be held during Thanksgiving week.

Cecelia, 17, a senior at East Mecklenburg High School was selected from about 60 girls. Title of first runner-up went to Shawn Graham and Lynn Lockett was the second runner-up.

Tennis, horseback riding, singing and dancing please Cecelia. She wants to attend Bennett College and major in photography and modeling. Cecelia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Robinson of 4706 McKee Rd, Matthews, N.C.

High School princesses from across Charlotte as well as some other areas of the state will compete for the queen's crown during the week of Thanksgiving at the Radisson Plaza Hotel.

At the Coronation Ball to be held Nov. 22 at the Civic Center, the new Carrousel Queen will be crowned. The pageant is being sponsored by Carolinas' Carrousel Inc. Activities will culminate on Thanksgiving Day with the annual Carolinas' Carrousel Parade in downtown Charlotte.

Riding on a float, the Carrousel Queen and princesses will be viewed by an estimated 250,000 spectators.

Students Holiday

There will be no school for students November 6 and 7. These have been scheduled as parent-teacher conference day. (See news release enclosed.)

Students will also have a holiday November 13, a teacher workday.

WRET-TV, First Union Bank

To Promote Halloween Safety

In an effort to promote Halloween safety for trick-or-treaters, WRET-TV and First Union National Bank will participate in a "Hot Dots and Candy" campaign October 27, 30, and 31 at area FUNB branches.

"Hot Dots" are orange stick-on reflectors (four times brighter than a highway sign) that when applied to children's costumes, bikes and bags make them more visible to motorists at night. Made of a washable, durable plastic material, they can be stitched onto clothing permanently for year round use. (For the past four years, the state of New Hampshire has had an annual "Hot Dots" program and reports a 40 percent reduction in child pedestrian deaths as a result.)

IS CRIME ON YOUR MIND?

A series of public meetings has been scheduled by the Mayor's Crime Commission to discuss crime and crime prevention in Charlotte. Members of the Commission and representatives of the Charlotte Police Department will be on hand to field questions and provide information. Check the following schedule to determine which meeting you'd like to attend:

During the 3-day campaign, over 10,000 free "Hot Dots," along with candy treats, will be given away at 45 FUNB branches in the following areas: Mecklenburg County, Gaston County, Cabarrus County, Statesville, Rockingham, Hamlet, Lenoir, and

Salisbury. Elifira Brimstone, the TV-36 witch promotes the safety campaign on the air, is especially pleased with the candy's color. "It's a lovely shade of bright green," she cackles smugly, "almost exactly the same color as my hair!"

Red Cross To Help Widows,

Veterans

Veterans and widows of veterans needing help filling out the annual VAIQ (Veterans Administration Income Questionnaire) can make an appointment with the Red Cross Services to Military Families and Veterans.

The forms will be mailed to the October veterans' and widows' pension checks and could be received by the first week of November. Veterans must complete the forms correctly and return them to the Veterans Administration before January 1 or their pension checks will be stopped.

To make an appointment to come to the Red Cross Center 125 Park Road, call Director Betty Long, Services to Military Families and Veterans, 76-1661.

The following information should be brought to appointments: amounts of all medical expenses in 1978; the amount of social security check; the amount of any interest or dividends received; and, if employed, the amount of total wages.

For the delivery of THE CHARLOTTE POST in your neighborhood, call the Circulation Department 376-0496.
