Bob Sampson

Receives

Scholarship

RN Bob Sampson, head nurse on 5 North at Mercy Hospital, received this year's Marijean Thorn Scholarship in a recent ceremony at the hospital. The award is presented annually to a nurse who has exemplified excellence in the practice of nursing.

"This year the award goes to someone who doesn't meet the criteria because it's not a "she," said Sister Kathryn Galigan, vice president of nursing at Mercy, as she revealed the name of this year's winner.

But in praising Mr. Sampson's achievements, Sister Kathryn made it clear that he meets and surpasses the other criteria for receiving the award.

She quoted a letter written by the staff on 5 North in support of Mr. Sampson's nomination. "Through his energy and skill, he provides the role model that motivates the staff to provide a high level of care for our patients."

"These characteristics not only are recognized by the staff and by our patients, but also by family members and physicians. Bob is instrumental in setting and maintaining the high standards of care that Mercy is proud to represent."
