Award Two Scholarships

Two West Charlotte High School seniors recently received college scholarships from community organizations.

S'ven Levister and Linda Shropshire were presented the scholarships at the West Charlotte awards program. Levister, 18, is the son of Jacquelyn Levister, 2061 Greenway Ave. He received a $500 scholarship from the West Charlotte Optimist Club.

Levister will attend UNC-Chapel Hill where he will major in pre-medicine. S'ven is a former member of West Charlotte's track team, as well as the Civitan and Latin clubs. In his community he is a member of the Salvation Army basketball team at Belmont Center, and plays basketball for his church team. He is president of his church Youth Council.

CPCC Plans Open House

A mock trial, computer games, a Mexican band and the unveiling of a unique photo-ceramic tile mural are the highlights of Central Piedmont Community College's Open House Sunday, June 10.

Students and faculty plan activities for visitors across the campus at Elizabeth and Kings.

Also planned for the 2-5 p.m. Open House are a backpacking campsite; self-defense and aerobics demonstrations; a performance by the CPCC flute choir; raku and other crafts; an open greenhouse; measurement of lung capacity, blood pressure readings, color blindness charts, EKGs, vision tests; a robotics demonstration and a crime lab display.

Visitors may trade in their old toothbrushes for a new one when they visit the dental hygiene lab. They can watch students demonstrate auto frame straightening. Or listen in on a quickie course on survival Spanish.

Members of student clubs and organizations will man refreshment booths. Campus maps, with a listing of the special activities and their locations, will be available at brightly colored tents.

Charlotte Mayor Harvey B. Gantt has supported the day's activities and declaring June 10 Central Community College Day in the city.

In his proclamation, Mayor Gantt said, "CPCC is dedicated to making the dream of a college education a reality for everyone, young or old, rich or poor."
