

Ruben Hines
.....Male Teacher of Year
Ruben L. Hines

Selected For NEH Grant

Ruben L. Hines, an instructor of History and Political Science at Johnson C. Smith University the past eight years, has been awarded a $20,878 grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities to pursue doctoral studies.

Hines has previously been selected by vote of the student body as "Teacher of the Year" at JCSU. He is a popular community and church speaker. Last February, Hines addressed the annual Black History Month Convocation on campus with a well-received speech entitled "Black Achievement: The Ingredients for Success."

Ruben Hines is a man of manifold skills. For years he's served as an unofficial campus poet of the JCSU News, prodding students toward higher achievement, greater self-awareness and pride. Hines is also the measure of ability with a cue stick for any student with thoughts of taking the annual billiards tournament title.

"It is a distinct honor to receive such an award from an organization as prestigious as the National Endowment for the Humanities," noted JCSU President Robert L. Albright.

"I'm just thrilled as can be," related Hines. "I'm grateful the NEH thought enough of my credentials to allow me to complete work on my doctorate."

Hines has previously earned 30 hours towards his Ph.D. He will be leaving in August, 1985, to study at UNC-Chapel Hill.

"I plan to finish in one year which several people have suggested may be too ambitious," stated Hines. "But we had a saying in the service, 'The impossible we do right away, miracles take a little longer.'"

Black Heritage Week

The week of October 1-7 has been designated Black Heritage Week at Appalachian State University, with this year's theme being "Where Do We Go From Here?"

Sponsored by the Black Student Association, the week holds many exciting events, including a public display each day from 10 a.m. till 3 p.m. in the Plemons Student Union lobby on the ASU campus in Boone.

Tuesday night, October 2, there will be a speaker in Our House of the Plemons Student Union at 8 p.m., while the rousing film based on the Broadway musical, "The Wiz," will be shown in the I.G. Greer Cinema at 7 p.m. Wednesday night.

Men's Service Club is sponsoring its fall semester Variety Show, to be held Friday, October 5, at 8 p.m. in Our House. The week's activities conclude with "Say Amen, Somebody," an historical gospel to be shown at 7 p.m. in the I.G. Greer Cinema on Sunday night.

Admission to all events is free. The public is invited to come out and see where we are going from here!
