Charlotteans Agree: Personal Appearance Is "Very Important"

In this week's tabloid section, The Post is featuring hair care and products related to the care of your hair. Since hair plays an important role in personal appearance, we wondered how important people think appearance is.

Post reporter Audrey Lodato asked Charlotteans, "How important do you think a person's appearance is?" They were almost unanimous. Here is what they had to say.

Linda Ervin, of Brookdale Drive, is employed by Outlet Square. She thinks a person's appearance is important - to a point. "I think you shouldn't judge just by looking at a person. You can tell better when you talk to a person. Appearance is important, but don't judge just on that."

JoAnne Lightsey, a student at CPCC, lives on N. Davidson. "Appearance is important," she claims. "It tells how that person is; it tells a little bit about that person."

Ernie Harris lives on Alabama Avenue and works as a security guard. His answer reflects his line of work. "The way a person is dressed; if they're well-groomed, smiling; their facial expression—all these things help me consider whether the person is good or bad."

Jill Liu is a homemaker living on Kimmswick Road. She relates the question to her own appearance. "It's very important," she begins. "It's got a lot to do with the way I feel and act. My appearance affects my attitude. I like to look nice for my husband. The same with my children - if they look dirty, I don't feel right."

Reginald Brown of Roslyn Street believes appearance is important. "It's crucial. It's like a reflection on your personality," he responds.

Harry Glasco, of Hunter Oaks Lane, is manager of Famous Footwear in Outlet Square. He, too, agrees that personal appearance is important. "Your appearance is basically a judgment of your character. If you make a good first impression, it can tell a lot about your personality."

Brenda McEachern, manager of Tropic Sun Fruit and Nut, also in Outlet Square, resides on S. Summit. "It's every important. It plays the greatest part in their character. It's also advantageous to their lifestyle to look good. A good first impression with others is important."

The Sadlers Reaffirm Marriage Vows

Mr. and Mrs. John William Sadler Sr. celebrated their Golden anniversary by reaffirming their marriage vows during a ceremony at Woodland Presbyterian Church. Reverend Emanuel E. Washington officiated the ceremony and attendants were bridesmaids Ruth Beatty, Lucy Boyd, Vinnon Cathey, Mary Houston, Mamie McClary, Mary E. Sadler, and Lucille Woodard; junior bridesmaids Melissa Sadler and Vanessa Sadler; and flower girls Emeralds Sadler and Keyna Herron. Charlie Sadler served as best man and Calvin Houston, Eugene Pharr, Douglas Sadler, Edward Sadler, Gregory Sadler, J.W. Sadler, Jr., and Roosevelt Woodard served as groomsmen. Master Rico LaMont Sadler was ringbearer.

The Sadlers first met more than 50 years ago at St. John's Chapel Primitive Baptist Church near where the couple presently lives. Mr. Sadler used to walk Mrs. Sadler, the former Elizabeth Houston, his then bride-to-be, home from church on Sunday afternoons before returning to his home—a trip of seven to eight miles. Mrs. Sadler laughingly remembers how Mr. Sadler, who was a butcher at the time, used to bring cuts of meat to her house when he came "courting" until he finally worked up the nerve to ask Mr. Houston for his daughter's hand in marriage.

Mrs. Sadler's mother's advice to her before her wedding was, "Stick together and honor your vows through all the trials and tribulations." The Sadlers credit their long and happy union to her mother's advice and love, understanding, sharing and a deep commitment to each other.

They have been blessed with three sons, Calvin, Edward and John Jr., one daughter, Johnie May, 11 grandchildren and two great grand children. The children were involved early in church and family prayer continues to be a regular event in the Sadler household.

Retired since 1978, after 45 years of employment with Leaksville Woolen Mill, Mr. Sadler enjoys hunting and gardening. He also volunteers his "handyman" services to aged and widowed citizens in their Paw Creek community, doing whatever job he can to help them.

Mrs. Sadler was the NAACP's "Mother of the Year" in 1959 and was instrumental in starting a hot lunch program for senior citizens in the Paw Creek area in 1975. After 35 years of service with Union Carbide, Mrs. Sadler retired in 1979 and continues to be active in church work at Woodland Presbyterian Church.

Women Voters

With regret, the Charlotte-Mecklenburg League of Women Voters announces the resignation of Miss Lynn Greer, President for the past 18 months. The board has appointed Mrs. M. E. Wiebler to fill the position until election of officers in May, 1985. Mrs. Wiebler, long time member of Charlotte-Mecklenburg League, served as president during 1973-75 and as vice president and board member for three years. She is currently secretary for Charlotte Emergency Housing, Inc., and a member of the Winter Shelter Operations Council. For information about League activities, call 333-2037.

READ THE WORD

God said, "It shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the Lord thy God. The Lord shall bring a nation against thee from far, from the end of the earth, as swift as the eagle flyeth, a nation whose tongue thou shalt not understand."
