Winthrop To

Present Salute

To Dr. King

ROCK HILL-- A Film Tribute to Martin Luther King will be presented by film maker Richard Kaplan at 7 p.m. March 4 at Winthrop College's Tillman Auditorium. The presentattion will be open to the public at no charge.

"King: A Filmed Record, Montgomery to Memphis" will be shown following remarks by Kap-lan, associate producer and director of the documentary. Chronicling the struggle for equality and justice from 1955 to 1968, the documentary shows the events as they occurred, without editorializing, through actual newsreel and television film footage. Dr. King's unforgettable prose is re-experienced in his sermons, "I Have a Dream," and "I Have Been to the Mountain Top," in his "Letter from Birmingham Jail," and in his speeches decrying bigotry and in opposition to war.

The music of the civil rights marchers provides the soundtrack for much of the film, as well as the voices of such artist as Mahalia Jackson and Odetta. There is no narration; nstead, the episodes are oridged with reading from the Bible, Langston Hughes and other sources by an array of distinguished actors. Kaplan's film about King was nominated for an Academy Award as best documentary in 1970. Other films of the writer-producer-director include "The Eleanor Roosevelt Story, which won an Oscar, and "A Look at Liv," a feature-length portrait of actress Liv Ullmann

In addition to his film and television career, Kaplan has worked as a journalist nd foreign correspondent and an actor and director in both radio and theater. A graduate of Antioch

e in Yellow Springs, Ohio, Kaplan has taught at various colleges and universities including the Unirsity of Southern Caliornia, the University of Maryland and the Pratt Institute of Design.

This presentation is part of the Freshman Convoca-tion Series at Winthrop College.

Mr. John Trevor (r) and Mrs. Bernice Rorie (c), residents of Williams Nursing Home, are pinned with red hearts by Mattie Ivey (standing), A Happy Valentine's Day celebration was brought by the Teen Club of Amay James Recreation Center where Ivey is Center Director. Two members of the Teen Club, Lisa Andrews and Brenda Cosby, decorated the nursing home's cafeteria with hearts and cupids made by all the members of the club. They also presented each resident with a fruit basket containing peppermint candies. This Valentine's celebration is one of the many exemplary service projects that the Teen Club of Amay James Rec Center has been involved with in their community. (Photo by Divine Reflections)
