

Your Letters Could Brighten Up Prisoners' Lives

The Post has received numerous letters from prisoners asking that someone write to them. One young man, who has been incarcerated for at least four years, has almost given up on having someone to correspond with. He wrote, "I am not too enthusiastic about writing letters now. I have just been disappointed too many times. I figure if I don't have anyone to write, I don't have anyone to disappoint me."

Others, who still have a little more faith in society, hope for correspondence with "nice, honest, intelligent, sensitive, career-minded and compassionate women..."

If you are a person who would like to brighten up a prisoner's life by sending correspondence, here are two names of individuals and their addresses who have asked for pen pals: Marlon Naylor, 171-855, P. O. Box 57, Marion, Ohio, 43301; and Kenneth Chatmon, 178-661, P. O. Box 57, Marion, Ohio 43302.

There will be a Focus Meeting 3 p.m., Tuesday, May 7. Broadway and Seymour, Inc. will host the meeting. The office is located at 302 South Tryon St.

The Friendship Force of N.C. is pleased to announce openings on the Interchange to the People's Republic of China November 8-22. Any North Carolinian age 8-80 can apply to be an Ambassador. The Friendship Force began in 1977 to promote peace and understanding through "the force of friendship."

Selected Ambassadors will visit Shanghai, Wuxi, Nanjing, Xian, Beijing, Gangzhou, and Hong Kong. Two nights will be spent in a farmers' commune. The price is $2,295 per person from Atlanta and includes round trip air fare, hotels, some sightseeing and most meals. For an application, Get excited, runners, because Ahmad Daniels, the originator of the West Side Road Race, will begin a West Side Track Club (not necessarily for west side residents only).

This club's first meeting will be held at the McCrory Branch YMCA Monday, May 13, beginning at 7 p.m.

There's no cost. Daniels wants to see how many will be interested in meeting to run, walk, exercise, view films and to receive training under supervision. The benefits of running and walking will be talked about. "I'd just like to find out what interests the community," Daniels explained. He will give runners notice on various area races. Classes will most likely be held on the track of West Charlotte High School and annual or membership dues may be charged later. It really all depends on how much interest the community has in fitness, running, walking and knowing more about to stay in shape. For more information, call Ahmad Daniels, 393-5474.
