EYE ON GOSPEL

Getting stronger: Willie Neal Johnson & the New Keynotes marked a creative milestone with the July release of their latest project, "Help Me To Be Strong." "When I produced it," reports Johnson, "I was making a few changes that I thought might hurt us. We didn't change our music. But we featured a song that was a take-off from 'Midnight Train to Georgia' and we didn't know how our fans would react. I was scared to death, but they liked it and so it worked out." But rest assured, this doesn't mean that Johnson will be taking any chances with upcoming recordings. He says he - and their fans - like the group's style as it is and have no plans to change it. Now, with regards to what Johnson needs help to be strong with, he replies "the things you can't change. In those instances, you've just got to be strong, pray and hold on." Briefly: The Christianaires are set to go into the studio to record album No. 8. No idea on the title. Also in the works is a solo album from lead vocalist Paul Pote...Rev. Timothy Wright, who scored a Top 10 hit with his current release "Live With The London Fellowship Choir," just recently renewed his contract with Savoy and it looks like he may be coming west to Los Angeles to record his next album in the first quarter of next year...

This week's scripture: "But avoid foolish questions and genealogies, and contentions, and strivings about the law; for they are unprofitable and vain." - Titus 3:9.
