Missionaries, medical groups cancel, delay trips to Haiti

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The bloody rebellion sweeping Haiti has prompted some church and medical relief groups from Indiana to cancel or delay aid trips to the impoverished Caribbean

The U.S. government on Friday urged Americans to leave Haiti because of the escalating violence as rebels try to topple Haitian President Jean-Bertrand Aristide.

The St. Mary's Medical Mission in Anderson had planned to leave Friday for southwestern Haiti for its ninth year of medical service to Haitians.

But the group decided to tentatively reschedule its trip for September, said team member Tony Martin, a member of St. Ambrose Catholic Church.

'It doesn't look good. It might not be any better then," he said.

The mission team, a joint effort of St. Ambrose and St. Mary's Catholic Church,

His love for the Father enabled Him to die a horrible death so people who are worthy of the wrath of God could saved. In other words, Jesus died to himself.

Studying the scripture I have found there's no way I will ever be able to truly die to myself and give my body over to the Lord as a living sacrifice until I begin to love God more than myself. And totally submit myself to the Father the way Jesus did in the Mount of Olives by telling the Father "not my will, but your will be done.

Meanwhile, five members of Evansville's Bible Center Cathedral who had been set to leave Saturday for a youth conference in Haiti decided to cancel the trip.

"It was just too risky," said
the Rev. Rick Van Hoose, pastor at Bible Center Cathe-

The church's assistant pastor, however, flew to Haiti on Thursday and plans to stay for the conference involving about 300 Haitian youths.

The Rev. Alan Shelby said

all has been calm and normal at the orphanage sponsored by the church about 15 miles from Port-au-Prince in the town of Petitionville. "It's very quiet and business as usual," Shelby said in a telephone interview Saturday. He plans to return to Evansville on Thursday after the conference ends.
