Northwest Corridor CDC honors community leaders

Gillespie

Godfrey

Muqtadir

Willie Garner, Neighboring Concepts and DeVision Ministry of Children & Youth have been recognized for community philanthropy by the Northwest Corridor Community Development Corporation and H.L. McCrorey YMCA.

Neighboring Concepts, an architecture and urban planning firm was master planner for Mosaic Village surrounding West Trade Street between Interstate 77 and the Five Points area.

Garner, former president of the Lincoln Heights Neighborhood Association, served on several boards, including Charlotte-Mecklenburg Parks Advisory, Northwest Corridor Community Development Association and Health Disparities Task Force.

DeVision Ministry, a ministry of Friendship Missionary Baptist Church, helps raise children with a spiritual foundation.

Harding High School graduates Shannon Alexandria Simmons and Alysene Janae Wallace have earned scholarships to Davidson College.

Both earned Presidential Award Merit scholarships, which recognize prospective members of the Davidson College community who have demonstrated outstanding academic achievement and leadership in high school and who will contribute diverse cultural or socioeconomic perspectives to the campus community.

Simmons was a 2006 Charlotte Post Top Senior and a North Carolina Scholar as well as member of the varsity track team and member of the National Honor Society. Wallace earned the IB Award and President's Award for educational excellence as well as a member of the National Honor Society.

Ranise Gillespie and Nikki Godfrey had joined The Nickerson Realty Group, a full-service residential real estate firm, as brokers. Their responsibilities include maintaining buyer-seller relationships for the company and advising clients to make informed real estate decisions.

Before joining NRG, Gillespie was a real estate broker for Allen Tate Company in Charlotte. Her professional memberships include the Charlotte Regional Realtors Association, the North Carolina Realtors Association and the National Association of Realtors.

Godfrey is a member of the National Association of Realtors, the North Carolina Realtors Association and the Charlotte Regional Realtors Association. Before moving to Charlotte, she served as a special events manager for ESPN at its headquarters in Bristol, Connecticut.

Jamiyah M. Muqtadir of Chicago, Ill., has been named a Collegiate All-American Scholar.

Muqtadir, a student at Johnson C Smith University, was nominated by Shama Greene Benjamin PhD.

The United States Achievement Academy established the Collegiate All-American Scholar Award Program to offer deserved recognition to students who excel in the academic disciplines. The All-American Scholars must earn a 3.3 or higher grade point average. Only scholars selected by a school official or other qualified sponsor are accepted.

Muqtadir will appear in the Collegiate All-American Yearbook, which is published nationally.
