UNDER THE GREEN-WOOD TREE

Mildred (holding up four fingers): "How much is this?" Olivia: "Why four, of course." Mildred: "No, one thousand, one hundred and eleven."

Grace: "Have you heard the story about the city lady who was planning to spend the summer with a friend near here?" Hilma: "No. What was it?"

Grace: "The lady wrote to her friend and asked if she had a bathtub. Her friend, who didn't have one, was very much disturbed and asked her husband what to say in reply. Her husband said, 'Tell her the truth, my dear, tell her she will have to take a bath before she comes.'"

In the Lucalian Hall one Monday evening, a lover was saying, "Darling, darling, promise me you will never let anyone come between us."

At that time, Miss McDowell entered the room. After looking at the couple, she exclaimed critically, "Well, from the looks of it, I don't see how anyone can."

"Does Roxie have any musical education?" "I should say so! Name any record, and she can tell you what is on the other side."

Mary B.: "Guess what Juanita Vick said yesterday." Polly C.: "What was it?" Mary B.: "She said she wasn't going to get married until she was twenty years of age."

Polly: "But suppose she doesn't get the chance then?" Mary: "Oh, she'll stay twenty until she does."

Julia: "Have you heard the latest definition of 'steam'?" Audrey: "No, what is it?" Julia: "Mary Frances told Miss Webster that it was water crazy with the heat."

Thelma: "Gee, but it's a good thing Elsie wasn't out late last night." Eva: "Why?" Thelma: "Everything green got killed by the frost."

"Wilma never has her English lessons prepared." "What does she work at?" "Oh! She works at intervals."

Rosabet (reading theme): "The magnolia trees are symbols of the spirit of Chowan freshmen!" Mildred (a sophomore, interrupting): "Which are ever-green?"

The average woman longs to find The strong-willed, iron-jawed man, That she can bend and twist to suit Her every whim and plan; While the average male is seeking As his ultimate desire A dainty sort of clinging vine That can tend the furnace fire.

Billy: "I see that Fanny Footlights roped in old Moneybags in approved fashion." Tom: "You mean she lassoed him?" Billy: "No, the lass sued him."

Hee: "Ever see a worse fog than this?" Haw: "Yes, one." Hee: "Is that so, where?" Haw: "Why, er—er—it was so foggy I really couldn't tell where it was."

GONE BUT NOT FORGOTTEN

Alumnae Column The following clippings from a recent newspaper will interest the Chowan girls of 1922-23:

Jackson-Skinner The marriage of Miss Catherine Allye Skinner and Mr. William Farrow Jackson was solemnized last Sunday evening at 9:30 at the home of the bride's parents on North Road street in Elizabeth City. Rev. J. L. Carrick, pastor of the Blackwell Memorial church, officiated. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Jackson left for a trip through Western North Carolina. The bride was attractively gowned in a traveling suit of blue crepe with harmonizing accessories. There were no attendants except the members of the immediate family and a few friends. Miss Skinner is the attractive and capable daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Skinner. She was a student of Chowan College in 1922-23, and for the past two years has been with the "Daily Advance" as society editor. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Jackson of Roanoke Rapids, and is a young business man of this city where they will make their home.

A card from Evelyn White, who is now studying voice in N. Y., says that she is enjoying her work tip top, and has visited many interesting places. Her address is 536 West 112 Street; Apartment 32, New York City.

Mrs. Herman H. Horne (Bessie Worthington) of New Jersey, in sending us her renewed subscription for the "Chowanian" says: "You certainly have the 'fond, sweet memory faithful still', and the 'diplomatic dollar', which I am enclosing for the CHOWANIAN is but a faint symbol of my appreciation of and thanks for the joyous thrill of your delightful visits."

Mrs. Horne enclosed for our use in the CHOWANIAN some letters written from Spain by her daughter two years ago. We are grateful for these letters, and shall be glad to publish them as we have space in our paper for them. Mrs. Horne's address is 341 Summitt Ave., Leonia, New Jersey.

STATE NEWS

A. and T. College for Negroes, State Institution situated in Greensboro, is taking an active part with the land grant colleges of the 17 other southern states in the movement to redirect the attention of the Negroes to the importance of landholding.

The gradual expansion of the principal industries, which has given a cheerful color to the business horizon since the beginning of the year, was continued last week, although there was considerable irregularities elsewhere. This "spotty" condition was due, in part, to the interruption of the past two weeks by holiday recesses, and partly to definite hesitation in some sections.

North Carolina is a larger consumer of commercial fertilizers than any other state in the union, using annually something like 1,200,000 tons. C. B. Williams, of the Department of Agronomy, North Carolina experiment station, State College, says. In one year, nine counties, each spent more than one million dollars and 25 counties, more than $400,000 for fertilizer alone.

George Edwards, Boy Scout of troop 6, of Goldsboro, is champion flint and steel fire maker of the world, it was learned Friday when a telegram was received by Scout Executive W. W. Rivers, from the National Council of Boy Scouts of America in New York City, stating that the previous world's record was four and three fifths seconds. Edwards made fire with flint and steel in four and one-fifth seconds in a scout rally held in Goldsboro in December.

Thursday, March 1, will be one of the red letter days in the history of the Junior Order United American Mechanics in the state of North Carolina, as well as in the entire nation. On that day, the doors of the beautiful new orphan's home, which has sprung up a few miles from Lexington to serve humanity in providing shelter for unfortunate children lacking in parental care and protection; will swing wide open, admitting into its friendly portals the first of the vast army of boys and girls who in the years to come shall rise up and call the order blessed because of the service rendered.
