Girls' Basketball Team Plays ECTC

Greenville Team Hostess for Night; Return Game to Be February 18

The Chowan College girls' basketball team lost their first game for this year to the East Carolina Teacher's College team on the Greenville court on Tuesday January 12, with a score of 50-8.

This was the first game that the Chowan team has played away from home for this season, so it was quite exciting, especially to the new members of the team, because of the new place and the trip.

The team composed of: Marion Holloman, captain, Frances Jilcott, Mildred Freeman, Eleanor Payne, Katherine Matthews, Janice Jenkins, and the substitutes: Vergie Coward, Margaret Adams, Mary Long, Cornelia Hill and Shirley Liverman accompanied by Miss Sara Bruce, their coach, and Martha Seymour, their business manager, left the college Tuesday afternoon arriving in Greenville in time to get fixed in their rooms and prepare for supper which, for the players, consisted of poached eggs, toast and hot tea.

After supper all the team was invited over to the campus house where a social hour was enjoyed. This was cut short for the players because they had to prepare for the game.

The next part of the trip was marked for Chowan by the appearance of their team in new two piece suits. The shorts were of blue cloth and were made with pleats on the sides and trimmed with white buttons. With these were worn white shirts. The team displayed another new addition—letters on this shirts. These were of blue.

The good sportsmanship of the East Carolina Teachers College students was displayed by their loyal support of each player, regardless of the side on which she played, who was put in or taken out of the game. During the half the Greenville cheer leaders lead in singing their Alma Mater and in giving college yells. There were characterized by an unanimous entrance of all in each yell.

No player from Chowan was starred in the game, but Captain Marion Holloman led, as in former games, in the running up of the score. Martin, for the E. C. T. C. team, led in shooting the most goals for them.

When the game was over the Chowan girls were told not to go and dress but to remain in the gymnasium for a party to be given by the Greenville team for the Chowan girls. They were all given all they could eat and the girls were really allowed to eat a banana, even though that may be a training rule. The party continued until ten when all had to go back to the dormitories.

After breakfast Wednesday morning the Chowan team came back to school. No team could wish to have a better hostess than E. C. T. C. team and the Chowan team enjoyed their hospitality fully.

Our team will be able to express in some manner their appreciation when the Greenville team comes to play the game here scheduled for Thursday, February 18. They will come and spend the night just as our team did.

The line up was as follows:

Chowan	E. C. T. C.
F—Jilcott, F.	Wilson
F—Freeman, M.	Newby
F—Holloman, M.	Blanton
G—Payne, E.	Austin
G—Jenkins, J.	Stephenson
G—Matthews, K.	McMillian

Events for New Semester Seen In the Offing

In spite of the wall of exams that at the present blinds the students, the future holds much for those who can look beyond the wall. The college calendar shows a period of full and interesting events for the beginning of the second semester until spring holidays.

After completing all examinations and finishing up the old semester the main interest will be the opening of the new semester.

When all the burdens of the old year are disposed of, each student can easily see through the clear spaces open before him. He or she can turn over a new leaf and begin anew. Students must be registered, new schedules are to be made, and new classes begun. It is with eagerness that everyone begins the new semester—the semester which will for some end the college career and for others will just begin.

Among the new courses offered will be one of great interest to the Seniors. There will be a methods course given for those interested in the teaching of physical education in high schools and the coaching of basketball and other sports.

Of great interest to everyone will be the number of plays that will be presented during the first half of the second semester. Each member of the play production class will coach and present a one-act play in the college auditorium during the next quarter. There will be eight plays in all.

The Senior class will also present a play. The cast will be chosen from the members of the Senior class. This play in three acts will be scheduled some date before spring holidays.

There are two important basketball games scheduled to be played on the home court. The Chowan team will play East Carolina Teacher's College team on February 18 and the Wingate team on February 3.

In March the student government officers are elected. They are nominated and passed on by the faculty. This list is posted on the bulletin board for two weeks after which they are elected by the

Students Welcome New Improvements In College Street

Making improvements must be contagious is the impression of people of the college and town today. For example, notice the newly tarred street leading to the college gate, an improvement which was much needed and very much appreciated.

In September when Chowan opened, much was said about the many improvements that had been made during the summer. The college officials had been busy all the summer to make Chowan a better place in which to live and work. Much appreciation has been expressed by students and faculty members for the improvements.

The town could not afford to lag

Dr. Frank Leavell Will Be At College On February 12

Has Made Recent Visit to Orient; Well Known Speaker

Dr. Frank H. Leavell, Executive Secretary of the Baptist Student Unions of the Southern Baptist Convention, and pioneer promotor of Baptist Student work is coming to Chowan College, February 12. He is making a brief tour of North Carolina College campuses from the 7-15.

"Dr. Leavell has made a recent tour of China and Japan with the conditions of colleges and universities uppermost in his mind. Word comes from the colleges eagerly heard by the students of both state and religious institutions." These are the words of Mr. W. Perry Crouch, Secretary of Christian Education in North Carolina, in a letter to Dr. Roy R. McCulloch, President of Chowan College. The North Carolina student bulletin, the B. S. U. Reveille has an item announcing the coming of Dr. Leavell.

He will be on Chowan campus Friday, February 12 and will be given one hour for his message to the students which will be the last hour before lunch from 12:15 to 1:15 o'clock.

Since the return of Dr. Leavell from China and Japan he has been making special efforts to interest American students in foreign students. He collected the names of all foreign students from the colleges in the South and sent them to the local B. S. U. presidents and asked them to see that every name which was received should get a Christmas greeting card from a native college student.

The January issue of the Baptist Student contains excerpts from the journal of the recent visit of the Student Secretary to the Orient.

At the Baptist Student Union Convention in Greensboro in October, Dr. Leavell in a message to students told something about the existing conditions of China.

Dr. Leavell knows more about Baptist student work than any other person in the South. He was appointed to his position in 1921. At that time he was State B. Y. P. U. Secretary of Georgia. His work of the new appointment began January 1, 1922 and he has continued as the first and only Executive Secretary of the Baptist Student Organization.

He is not only the author of

Four Representative Speakers Pay Tribute

DR. McCULLOCH IS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER

Musical Selections for the Hour Selected from Dean's Favorites

A memorial service for Dean Valerie M. Schaible was held in Chowan College auditorium Monday morning, January 11, at 10:15 o'clock. Testimonies of her life and service were given by Dr. McCulloch, the College President; faculty members; and a student.

Dr. McCulloch spoke of Miss Schaible as a co-worker; Miss Ivey Gravette, as a friend; Miss Martha Seymour, student government president, as a student; and Dr. J. H. Bunn, as pastor of her church.

The hymn "Dear Lord and Father of Mankind" which was sung at the beginning of the service and the devotional, the 103 Psalm which was read by Dr. Bunn, were favorites of Miss Schaible.

Dr. McCulloch, as co-worker, spoke of her as one who was always busy at her task and always ready to do it well. She acted as executive head of Chowan College during the absence of a president last year, then willingly did all she could to assist the new president when he came in order to make his work at Chowan more familiar to him. He especially complimented her ability to keep official matters confidential, to persevere, and to appreciate the work of others.

"If With All Your Hearts" by Mendelssohn, a special favorite of Schaible's, was sung by the Chowan College sextette. Misses Forrest DeLano, Martha Yates Seymour, Helen Edwards, Edith Johnson, Bernice Ricks, and Lila Ward Cooke.

Miss Ivey Gravette, as a representative faculty member and friend of Miss Schaible, paid a tribute to her in her private life. She had been acquainted with various members of the faculty for seven years. They knew her in more than her professional life. She said that her professional life was not the best part of her even though good. "She loved the lovely things in life," Miss Gravette said. She added that Miss Schaible loved art, music, and literature as well as mathematics which she taught. She had studied music and was the first one in the College to purchase a radio in order that she might hear her favorite music which was symphony orchestra and opera. Wagner was her favorite composer.

She spoke of her room in the teacher's dormitory as evidence of her love of good pictures. She mentioned the one of John the Baptist and a Venetian scene as examples. Other good pictures in her possession were not placed on the wall.

Her tolerance with people and her silence among criticism was attributed by Miss Gravette as very marked characteristic of Miss Schaible. Her sympathetic quality and her ability to be confidential in friendship was the final tribute paid by Miss Gravette.

Miss Martha Yates Seymour spoke in behalf of the students. She expressed their appreciation of hte advice that she had given students, her interest in student
