

Chowan Meets Louisburg Here Saturday

The Braves will be out to better their one won and two lost record Saturday, April 28, when the nine from Louisburg come to College Field for a nine-inning encounter. The game will be a continuation of the keen rivalry which has prevailed between the two schools for a long time.

Both hurlers for Chowan should be in top form for Saturday, as each of them will have had at least a week's rest. The pitchers are now getting to mid-season form as they have had a chance for a little practice under fire. Bad weather has handicapped all the teams in the surrounding area as well as Chowan so far this season, but with the actual arrival of spring and some good hot weather in the past few days, both teams should be rounded into top shape for the forth coming event.

The remainder of the season's schedule is:

APRIL

28—Louisburg here at 3:00

MAY

2—Langley Field Air Force there at 3:45

8—Langley Field Air Force here at 3:00

12—Open Date

Lt. Gov. Francis D. Winston of Windsor delivered the commencement address on May 17, 1908. John C. Scarborough was the college president then.

In 1852-53, 156 students from five states were enrolled.

Monogram Club News

At the regular meeting of the Chowan College Monogram Club on April 7, President Bobby Dough presided in the discussion of club business.

The motion was carried that the club appropriate money from the treasure to send pictures of the 50-51 football team to all members who are now in service of their country.

It was announced that invitations to the club were sent to those basketball lettermen who had no previously joined. Due to the fact that the number of new members coming into the club was so small, it was decided that their initiation will be held next year.

When the suggestion of election of new officers for next year came up, those present at the meeting carried a motion to the effect that election would be postponed until next September.

Also, among the business discussed was the planning of a fish fry for the student body with sweethearts and faculty with families. The fish fry took place Thursday, April 12 in place of the evening meal. The members of the club cleaned fish all afternoon, and coach Layton served as chief cook. Fried fish, cold saw, pickles, corn bread, and cold drinks or coffee was enjoyed by all when the smoke rose from the outdoor fire behind school. Everything was free and school spirit was high.

Braves Lose to PJC 7-4 in Rain Game

By BRINSON PAUL

Murfreesboro, April 17 -- Chowan College was defeated by a 7-4 margin at the hands of the Presbyterian Junior College Cardinals yesterday. The game was played in a swift falling rain from the third inning on until the end of the contest. The game was played at the college field in Murfreesboro.

Chowan was the first team to score when the Braves did some fancy bunting. R. D. Belch was the first hitter in the game for Chowan as he received a free pass to first. He was followed by Buddy Bass who in an attempt to sacrifice him down to second got an infield hit. Charles Buffaloe followed with another hit resulting from an attempted sacrifice. Buffaloe was forced at second as Belch scored the first tally on Vance Stewart's grounder to second. Then with men on first and third Donald Hughes slashed a sizzling line drive over second to drive home the next two Chowan scores. Hughes advanced to second on Billy Clemmer's grounder to first. Bill Thompson then drove in what later proved to be Chowan's last tally with a fast-moving drive to right field.

There was no more scoring by either side until the third inning when the entire PJC lineup came to the plate and combined three hits and a like number of walks to produce three scores.

At this point of the game rain halted action for a while. The two teams played tight defensive ball for the next three innings, until the first of the seventh when PJC scored two more runs. They added two more tallies in the next frame.

PJC scored the winning run in the seventh when they used three base-on-balls and a Chowan error to push over the tying and winning run.

Goodman struck out nine and gave up only six hits in a hard struggle against the bats of PJC and old man weather. His thirteen free tickets to first base, however, proved his downfall.

Stone pitched a good game for PJC giving up only five hits and issuing only six walks to take the victory.

Bass led the Chowan batting with 2 for 5. Del Cerro and Morton each got 2 for 3 for the Cardinals.

This leaves Chowan with a 1 won and 2 lost record. The PJC team has a 2-2 record after yesterday's game.

Chowan's next game is against Fort Eustis on Friday night in a game to be played under the lights at the Fort field.

Sports Chow

A report from the Chowan baseball club is that Bill Thompson is a substitute for short stop. This isn't Bill's regular position. He is a second baseman. Maybe he should be tried there. He has had experience, having four years in high school and two for Suffolk in a semi-pro league. He should be a super-sub!

Red Browning is showing his wares these days with his golf club and that little ball. Maybe Red could swing a mean ball bat too.

Chowan students have several occasions to watch the Murfreesboro High team in action in as much as they are playing on the college diamond. In turn the college uses the local gym for basketball.

It may be getting later than you think. Not many weeks longer and those excellent tennis courts aren't seeing much use. Weather is fine, too, for the sport. Girls in the advanced tennis class. Ann Jackson, Una Francis, and Ruth Taylor, ought to be giving us non-wielders something to look at. Too, some of the girls report that badminton is getting stale.

Outdoors isn't the only scene of activity nowadays. The gym any afternoon or night is busy with rhythms, hop, skip, and jump as practice goes on for May Day festivities, and the program there seems to be shaping up into a really good one.

Sports Chow was sorely missed in the last issue. Editor Ellen Downs was knee deep getting the Chowanoka off to press. Incidentally we nominate Ellen the busiest person on the Chowan campus. (Ellen is not writing this column either.)

From all reports Coach Keeter and WAA president Ellen Downs found no fault with the national WAA convention. This goes for Ellen in particular, as Miss Keeter was slowed down by mumps. And we won't use the trite phrase—had a swell time.

The baseball team which is having a hard time keeping dates filled is an excellent outfit, better than the club last year, and that was rated good. Two reasons attribute to this: additional catching and throwing practice in the kitchen at dishwashing time, and no hair in the eyes. It is reported that the team will no longer be known as the Crew boys.

The Monogram fish fry is becoming an annual event now, and no one hates to see the herrings—or are they trout?—running.

Personality Sketches of The Chowan Braves

By DONALD ROSE

Although the Chowan College Braves have only a mediocre 1-2 record, the newcomers and the veterans should soon get used to working together and prove to be a strong and smooth working team. And be a threat to any junior college rival, too. The team is composed of eight veterans and seven newcomers. Most of the team has seen considerable service prior to entering Chowan.

Following is a list of the Chowan team members and information concerning each player.

R. D. Belch—Veteran catcher: R. D.'s home is in Murfreesboro. He played three years of baseball for Conway High School and one year for Conway in the Roanoke-Chowan League. He also played one year for Murfreesboro High School. R. D. has played both the outfield and infield.

Billy Clemmer—Veteran first baseman: Billy is a native of Roanoke Rapids where he played two years at first base for Roanoke Rapids High School. Billy has also played one year of American Legion ball.

Donald Hughes—Second baseman—Veteran infielder-cut-fielder: Donald lives in Colerain where he saw action for three years with Colerain High School. He also played with Ahoskie in the Roanoke-Chowan League.

Charles Buffaloe—Veteran third baseman: Charles' home is in Jackson. He played four years of baseball at third base with Jackson High School. He has also played one year of American Legion ball and two years of semi-pro ball.

Vance Stewart—Veteran shortstop: Vance lives in Roanoke Rapids and played five years of baseball with Roanoke Rapids High School at short stop. Vance has also seen two years of action of semi-pro ball, one year with South Hill, Va., and one year with La Crosse, Va. He also has played two years of American Legion ball.

Buddy Bass—Veteran leftfielder: Buddy is a native of Halifax. He played three years of baseball as catcher and left fielder with Weldon High School. Buddy has also played with the Halifax town team.

Clarence Alexander—Center fielder: Clarence lives in Plymouth where he played baseball three years at first base with Plymouth High School. He has also played with Jamesville in the Martin County League.

Joe Blythe—Right fielder: Joe calls Franklin, Va., his home. Joe played for the Carrsville High School team for three years as a shortstop and as a pitcher. He also played one year with the Carrsville town team.

Edsel Farless—Veteran third baseman and right fielder. Edsel lives in Colerain where he saw action one year with Colerain High School at second base. He has also played with the Colerain Town teams.

Earl Goodwin—Pitcher: Earl lives in Edenton. Earl pitched for Edenton High School four years and has pitched for three years with Edenton in the Albemarle League.

Harold Gregory—Pitcher: Harold's home is in Shawboro. He played for Moyock High School as pitcher and outfielder. He has also played with Shawboro in the Carolina Tidewater League as pitcher and outfielder.

Curtis Copeland—Veteran infielder: Curtis lives in Suffolk, Va. He played two years at third base with Suffolk High School and has played with the Fort Motor Company, in the Norfolk City League.

Bill Thompson—Utility infielder: Bill's home is in Suffolk, Va. Bill saw four years of action with Suffolk High School, two years of semi-pro ball and one year of American Legion ball.

Vaughan Fowler—Utility catcher: Vaughan lives in Franklin, Va. he caught, and played outfield for three years with Franklin High School.

Report on A.F.C.W. Meet at Ann Arbor

The Women's Athletic Association of Chowan believes in the highest ideals of physical education—participation, fun, health, benefits for all girls—and are anxious to find out how we can best attain these goals. It was for this reason that Miss Keeter, physical education instructor, and Ellen Downs, WAA proxy attended the thirteenth national convention of the Athletic Federation for College Women at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan, April 13-16. Here they had opportunities to exchange ideas with representatives from colleges all over the United States who also realize the important part athletics, properly guided, can play in the development of college girls who will be the future mothers and leaders of our nation.

After having registered and eaten everyone gathered in Rackham Auditorium for the first general session. At this time Dr. Margaret Bell, head of the P. E. Department at the University of Michigan gave the welcoming address and Chowan College WAA was added to the AFCW role. A pajama party was enjoyed by everyone at the close of this session (except Miss Keeter who was in bed with the mumps.)

The mornings and afternoons were taken up mainly by business meetings and discussions on various topics concerning WAA and AFCW and their relationship to physical education. At these meetings noted physical educators such as Dr. Laurie Campbell, chairman of NSWA and Miss Elsa Schneider, specialist, Health Instruction and Physical Education, who spoke on the topic, "You Have What It Takes—Will You Use It?"

Wednesday evening from 7:30-9:30 found everyone taking an active part in the conference because this was co-recreation night including swimming, volley ball, badminton, square-dancing (men were furnished by surrounding colleges) and various other activities.

Thursday afternoon a Tour of University of Michigan was provided for the delegates after an informal banquet was held. In addition to nutritional food, there was also food for thought in terms of addresses by Miss Marie Hartwig and others.

At the final general session on Friday morning, Dr. Ethel Alphenfels, Asso. Prof. Anthropology, New York University, spoke on The HR Factor—Human Relations in Women's Athletics. The convention was adjourned.

The AFCW will be held in California in 1953 and it is the hopes of our WAA here that we will be able to send at least one official delegate to the convention.

The WAA has progressed rapidly this year and now that we have become a member of the national organization we feel that we will be able to progress even more rapidly in the years to come.

The AFCW has as its main purpose to further athletic activities for college women by promoting a recreational program in which men and women may participate together and to improve the skills through interest and enjoyment and to increase the number of women participating in athletic activities.

This is the purpose of the A. F. C. W. and it is the purpose of the Chowan WAA.
