The 1953 phenomenal baseball team of Chowan College is proving to be one of the most outstanding in the N. C. Junior College Conference.

The first game of the baseball season brought a defeat by Campbell College, 6-3. C. E. Allgood was the losing pitcher. John Broadwell took the batting honors.

In a tight and interesting game with Louisburg, Chowan emerged victorious by a score of 15-14. The game was tied up in the last inning, when Frank Gibson broke the tie by hitting one of his usual long range sluggers, thus giving the game to the Braves.

The second conference victory occurred when Chowan defeated E. M. I. 11-6. The pitcher for Chowan was C. E. Allgood.

The third victory was over Pfeiffer, 11-6.

Chowan has also won two non-conference games. The Braves defeated the Newport News Apprentice School 5-3 and Franklin High School 6-0.

John Parker, Jr. Gets National Honor and Award

John Parker, Jr., of Windsor, a Freshman at Chowan, recently received the trip of a lifetime and a handsome award of $100. He went to New York with the North Carolina 4-H gardeners, on a trip sponsored by the Burpee Seed Co. The award was by the A & P food stores of America.

During the trip he toured the Empire State Building, the Statue of Liberty, Columbia University, the Hayden Planetarium, the liner Independence, St. John's and St. Patrick's Cathedrals, and Radio City where an excellent Christmas stage show was presented. These tours were under guides with groups of fellow Junior Vegetable Growers. The youths at the convention frequently went shopping on nearby Fifth Avenue, and went to the movies on Broadway.

At the 18th annual National Junior Vegetable Growers convention he received $100 of the $10,000 which was presented to boys and girls from 46 states.
