

Chowan's B.S.U. Group Largest at State Convention

By BEATRICE CROCKER

A sleepy headed group of Chowan B.S.U. members arose early Friday morning in order to leave for the B.S.U. Convention in Asheville. Those going met in front of the "Columns Building" for invocation before leaving. Although it was early in the morning there was a lot of spirit among the students. You could see Chowan signs being put on each car. Everyone was excited and looking forward to the trip to Asheville.

After registering at the First Baptist Church each was assigned to a home for the weekend.

The church where the meetings were held was an attractive place of worship. One of the interesting things that caught nearly everyones attention was the flowers on each side of the church above the choir loft and the pulpit. You had a feeling of everything being in harmony when you walked in.

A very interesting drama entitled "The Mould", was given by the University of North Carolina Baptist Student Union.

We are happy to say two members of the Chowan choir were selected to sing with the B.S.U. choir. They were Robert Earl Williamson and Robert Futrell, both tenors.

The B.S.U. was very fortunate to have Dr. Wayne Oates, professor of psychology of religion, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Kentucky, as one of the speakers throughout the entire B.S.U. Convention. On Friday evening Dr. Oates spoke on "The Meaning of Christian Discipline." The topic throughout the convention was "Discipline for Today's Demands." Following Dr. Oates' address there was a period for questions and answers.

Having the largest representation there, which was 72, Chowan also traveled the longest distance to attend the Convention. East Carolina College was second and Meredith was third in numbers present.

After the service everyone met in the basement for a fellowship meeting. Everyone had a good time singing and playing games. Being Halloween night, tricks were played on some students by getting them to come to the front and perform a "treat."

On Saturday the meeting began with everyone joining in singing of several hymns. The B.S.U. choir then sang a spiritual, "Ain't That Good News."

Dr. Stewart A. Newman, professor of theology and philosophy of religion, Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Wake Forest, talked on "The Christian Discipline of Lordship." Then each went to their groups where they discussed some of the views in Dr. Newman's talk, getting the students' point of view on each subject. This discussion was very interesting.

After the discussion everyone met in the auditorium for a special song from the B.S.U. choir. The selection was "God Be In My Head."

Dr. Oates spoke on "The How of Christian Self-Discipline." Again a question and answer period followed.

Saturday afternoon the service was opened with a hymn and a prayer. Dr. Newman spoke on "The Christian Discipline of Spiritual Insight." The Mars Hill Male Quartet sang "God Is The Spirit." It was an enjoyable program. Group discussions on Dr. Newman's topic followed. More people entered the discussion this time than at any previous one.

The business session was held in the auditorium. The "LISTEN" report was given, and all other reports. The meeting was adjourned at 4:30, and some toured the city or drove the scenic highway.

The Saturday evening meeting was a well planned program. The service was opened with hymns sung by the congregation. Also the B.S.U. choir sang a number.

ry for missionary personnel, Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, Richmond, Virginia, spoke on "A Compelling Choice."

The Wake Forest College Baptist Student Union gave an interesting and inspiring drama on "LISTEN." This was carried out very well. With the help of spotlights each scene could be quickly changed without moving the scenery.

Miss Paddy Sue Wall, 1958 summer missionary to Mexico, a senior at University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, and Miss Ann Allred, 1958 summer missionary to Hawaii, a junior at Meredith College, Raleigh, gave interesting talks on their work as summer missionaries. Miss Allred wore a dress made in Hawaii.

There was a meeting of presidents from the different colleges after the general session.

On Sunday morning the service was opened with a prayer, followed by Dr. Oates' address on "Maturity Through Discipline." A hymn was sung and the "LISTEN" offering was given. This money will help the summer missions.

The B.S.U. Convention was honored to have one of the students from Shaw University sing a solo.

Rev. W. W. Lancaster, pastor, First Baptist Church, Orangeburg, South Carolina, closed the convention with a sermon entitled "On the Appropriation of Faith."

Dr. Bunn Here For Evangelism Week Services

"Campus Evangelism Week," always a highlight of the year's activities at Chowan College, began Monday, November 17, at 10 a.m., at the regular morning chapel period.

Dr. John T. Bunn, pastor of Durham's Braggtown Baptist Church for the past two years, was the visiting speaker for the week. Dr. Bunn holds the B.A. degree from Wake Forest College, and the B. D. and Th. D. degrees from the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky.

At Louisville, Biblical Archaeology was his major field of graduate study, and following receipt of his doctorate he spent a year in research-excavation in the Near East before assuming his present position in Durham.

Dr. Bunn's presence in Murfreesboro marked a return to scenes of his boyhood. His father, Dr. John H. Bunn, now retired but for many years an outstanding North Carolina Baptist minister, was at one time pastor of the Murfreesboro Baptist Church and teacher of Bible at Chowan College.

The regular Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, 10 o'clock chapel periods were under the direction of Dr. Bunn. In addition he held special services of worship each evening, Monday through Friday.

Dr. Eddins is Guest Speaker

Dr. John W. Eddins, assistant professor of Theology at Southeastern Baptist Theological Seminary, Wake Forest, was the principal speaker for "Denominational Emphasis Day" at Chowan College, Wednesday morning, November 5.

This program, which began at 10 o'clock in the college auditorium, was the first in a series of similar programs arranged by the Chowan College chapel committee. The beginning program featuring Dr. Eddins, as well as the others which are to follow, are open to the public.

Dr. Eddins, who began his work at Southeastern Seminary in August, 1958, holds the B. S. degree from Auburn, the B. A. degree from Howard College, and the B. D. and Th. D. degrees from Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville.

He has held pastorates in Alabama and Kentucky, and served as special instructor in Theology at Southern Seminary before coming to his position in North Carolina this year.

Twerp Days

Twerp Days, sponsored by the B. S. U., were successful and filled with fun. Girls were asking and getting dates with the boys of their choice. Topping off the week was a Sadie Hawkins day and a party. Everyone who attended was asked to dress as a hobo or wear some form of costume.

Prizes were given to Edith Workman and Wallace Riddick for their superb costumes. Wallace Riddick was dressed very shabbily from head to toe. In fact, few people recognized him until he took off his scraggly false beard. Edith Workman was dressed in a football uniform and here was the huskiest female any man never wanted to meet! Not letting her uniform hold her back, she and the other cheerleaders led the crowd in a brief pep rally.

Woman's Judiciary to Guide Coed Activities

By JANICE WHITE

The Woman's Judiciary is a branch of the Student Government Association of Chowan College. The object of the organization is to help better living conditions for the girls of Chowan College, to help in developing the girls as leaders and followers, and to aid in the improvement of the college as a whole. It is the duty of each Judiciary member to assist all girls in obeying the rules that are provided for their interest and protection.

The membership of the Woman's Judiciary consists of the three offices, president, vice president, secretary, and three girls who are newly elected. These representatives from the dormitory and one day student make a total of seven members. The present officers of this organization are: President Gwen Eure from Eure; Vice President Jewel Felts from Boykins, Virginia; and Secretary Linda Watson from Conway. The girls recently elected the other four members. They are: day student, Gloria Sumner (sophomore) from Conway; girls from the dormitory, Mary Hunter (freshman) from Marion; Becky Powers (freshman) from Great Bridge, Virginia; and Yulba Outland (sophomore) from Rich Square.

The Woman's Judiciary meets every two weeks at a designated time and place. Special meetings can be called by the president if the need arises.

The officers are elected for one school term, unless removed for failure to perform their duties. One of the most important duties of each officer is to report any infraction of rules, or any conduct, detrimental to the life of Chowan College.

The Judiciary wants to help the girls form a well-rounded life as they develop mentally, physically, socially, and spiritually to become the best citizens wherever they may live.

The members of the Woman's Judiciary are honored to have been elected by their fellow students, and have accepted the responsibilities. They will seek to live in such a way as to be a guiding influence as leaders among the girls on the campus of Chowan College.
