

THEY ARE ALL QUEENS

Chowan's Queen at the North Carolina-Virginia Basketball Tournament, held at Wilmington Junior College, is the attractive young lady on this month's cover. She was elected by members of the Braves basketball team and crowned during a recent chapel meeting. Miss Congleton was Queen of Hearts last year and a member of the Homecoming Court this year. She is a sophomore from Washington, N. C.

Houseparty is Held By YWA's At Buies Creek

By SUSAN HARRIS

Five girls from Chowan College attended the State Y. W. A. Houseparty the week-end of January 29-31 at Campbell College, Buies Creek. They were Beronica Ray, Elaine Earley, Jeanette Dowdy, Catherine Leicester, and Susan Harris.

Mrs. J. A. Smith, associational Y. W. A. director, and Mrs. Sybil Grimes, dean of women of Chowan College, accompanied the girls on the trip.

The theme for the week-end was "God So Loved The World". Speakers were Mrs. Allegra LaPrairie, New Orleans; Dean A. R. Burkot, Campbell College; Mrs. W. K. McGee, Winston-Salem; Edna Frances Dawkins; Mrs. Harry Wood, Leaksville; Mrs. Bryant Hicks, Missionary to Philippines, and Billie Pate, Birmingham, Alabama.

From the missionary reports, the members seemed very conscious of the work that has been done in the missionary fields.

Miss Sara Ann Hobbs, State Y. W. A. Director, was in charge of making the preparations for the houseparty.

On Friday evening, January 29, Mrs. LaPrairie delivered the message "What I Present To My World." Fellowship followed in the college gym.

Saturday morning, January 30, Miss Dawkins spoke on "What My World Presents To Me". After the message the girls were assigned to attend various conferences. A business session was held for the election of officers. Following the business session Y. W. A. members presented programs on "Program Pointers", "White Bible Ceremony", and "Citation".

Saturday night, January 30, a banquet was held in the Campbell College cafeteria for the visiting Y. W. A. members. The theme for the banquet was "All Around the U. S. A.". In the evening session Mr. Harry Wood and Mrs. Bryant Hicks delivered the message "God's Work Within His World".

On Sunday morning, January 31, Sunday School classes were held. The concluding message of the houseparty was delivered by Rev. Harold Cole on "Motion-va-tion For Missions".

After a delicious lunch, served in the college cafeteria, everyone started on the way home and back to their respective colleges.

Convocation Service Held

The second semester opening Convocation was held during chapel Wednesday, January 27. The speaker for the event was The Reverend B. M. White-Hurst of Roanoke Rapids.

Mr. John C. Gill, Jr. expressed greetings to the new students of Chowan College. The invocation was by James Henry of Laurinburg, Chowan student. Mr. F. Milam Johnson, professor and chairman of the Science department read the scripture and followed with a prayer.

Musical selections were presented by the Chowan College choir with professor James Chamblee directing.

The Reverend White-Hurst is currently serving on the Chowan College Board of Trustees, also as a National Guard Chaplain, and is pastor of the Rosemary Baptist Church in Roanoke Rapids.
