

Reynolds, Hogue Elected to Head Freshmen, Sophomores

C. J. REYNOLDS

DENNIS HOGUE

With the air filled with the flavor of big time politics, the students of Chowan went to the polls early last month and voted for their class officers. The elections took place on Friday, October 2.

At the start of election week candidates made their presence known by the use of signs around the campus. One candidate had signs around just about every other tree to proclaim his nomination. This same candidate had a big sign in the form of a banner, flying from the Columns Building. He did not win.

Active Campaign

During the chapel periods on Friday the students were allowed to hear the various platforms that each candidate subscribed to.

That afternoon from noon to six p.m. elections were held. Voting was done in the New Student Center by secret ballot.

Reynolds President

Elected by the freshman class were: C. J. Reynolds, president; Roberta Hare, Vice-president; Patricia Rivers, Secretary-Treasurer; and Loretta DeLaura social co-chairman. A male social co-chairman will be appointed by the administration because no one filed for that post.

This year's upperclassmen vote in Dennis Hogue as president. Other Sophomore class officers elected were: John Arendts, vice-president; and Joann Cogliandro as Social Co-chairman. A male social co-chairman will be appointed since no one filed for that post.

To be on the ballot candidates had to file a petition and be certified by the registrar.

To vote a student had to pay his $10.00 student government fee.

Chowan After A Month

(Written by freshman, Becky O'Neal, this letter expresses something of her thoughts and feelings about Chowan after a month of school.

Dear Mom & Dad,

Just a line to let you know I've survived the first two weeks of college, but it's hard to believe! Anyone who can live through registration day can take anything, even Rat Court (which I'll tell you all about when I see you)!

My schedule is (I hope) finally permanent, after about five or six changes, drops, and additions, I have all my subjects, BUT at the wrong periods. I don't have much free time (ugh) every morning (ugh! ugh!), therefore, some mornings I just can't seem to make it to breakfast. That orange juice (which is hot from lack of refrigeration) ties me over 'til lunch — sometimes.

I haven't purchased all of my books, as there was an insufficient supply ordered; thus, keeping up with studies is a bit difficult at times.

Yes, Mom, it's just like you said: Southerners are slower and don't rush, rush, rush, all the time, but I like it! I don't feel as exhausted taking my time! (Oh, I met two kids from Delaware and they are real neat!)

You should see my room. Remember the old saying, "Clothes man the man"? Well, in my case, "Curtains make the room." It sure feels "homey" since they were put up. I love Dorm "B" and the girls are real neat!

I really love it here and it isn't as difficult as I anticipated to get back into the "swing of study and classrooms." There are times, though, when I hear an instructor say, "Remember back in high school—" then I feel like I've been absent from study for ten years instead of one!

The faculty is, as I'd expected: friendly and helpful to the students, and we're not just "a number" in class, but individuals. Anyone in need of assistance may obtain it merely by asking.

As for the spiritual atmosphere on campus, it's about as I'd contemplated, but there's always room for growth. You know, out of the ten colleges to which I applied I'm truly thankful I was led to Chowan. I know just as in other things I've accomplished, as long as I work hard, have faith and confidence in myself, and follow the leadership of His guiding hand, I'll make it!!

Well, I've got to go. You must excuse the mistakes. (If you were writing while trying to hold a flashlight and bed covers, you'd probably make mistakes too! Lights had to be out at 12, but I simply had to finish this tonight.)

Love 'ya,
Becky

PS Tell everyone 'round home, "Hello!"

PSS Give "Frissie" a bone and don't forget to bring him when you come.

PSSS (The best 'till last. Please send MONEY to defray expenses, such as books, knick knacks, fees, knick knacks, essentials, knick knacks, etc.

BSU OFFICERS—Members of the Baptist Student Union Executive Council for 1964-65 are pictured above. They are, left to right, first row, Dean Barnes, publicity chairman; Patsy Edwards, missions co-chairman; Linda Askew, vice-president; Brenda Brodie, YWA Representative; Brenda Stille, devotional chairman. Second row, Ross Harris, President; Leeman Lamb, missions co-chairman; Elmo Turner, enlist chairman; Marsha Porter, secretary. Absent when picture was made was Eric Moorefield, properties chairman.

Questions and Answers About BSU

QUESTION: What is BSU?

ANSWER: Baptist Student Union is a campus religious organization, devoted to developing and strengthening the Christian faith of college students.

QUESTION: Who belongs to BSU?

ANSWER: Membership and participation in BSU are voluntary matters. To be eligible for membership one of the following conditions must be met (a) hold membership in one of the other campus religious organizations (Young Woman's Auxiliary or Ministerial Alliance); (b) hold membership in or be a regular attendant at one of the local churches in Murfreesboro; (c) be a member of one of the Christian education groups in a local church (Sunday School, the Methodist Youth Fellowship, Baptist Training Union, etc.); or

(d) membership in or regular attendance at one's home church, for the student who commutes or goes home on weekends.

QUESTION: Do non-Baptists belong to BSU?

ANSWER: Oh, yes! Any student is eligible for membership without regard to his denomination, provided one of the above conditions is met. Non-Baptists are often elected to the Executive Council.

QUESTION: What is the Executive Council?

ANSWER: Baptist Student Union is the name given to the organization as a whole. For purposes of programming and administration, members of BSU elect an Executive Council annually, in the spring. This Council is composed of 12 members, who work closely with the college chaplain in planning programs for the union. In addition, Executive Council members have their own student committees. The Executive committees, from what is called the Greater Council.

QUESTION: What kind of "programming" is done through BSU?

ANSWER: At present BSU schedules Vespers twice weekly. From time to time there will be opportunities to participate in group discussions and Bible study; extension trips to churches in the area; campus socials; and other special events. Each individual student is encouraged to develop his Christian faith through private devotion and study, participation in the local churches, and involvement in world missions through BSU's LISTEN program.

QUESTION: How do I learn about all that is going on through BSU?

ANSWER: Keep your eyes and ears open! You will be seeing and hearing much about the work of Baptist Student Union. And — perhaps — you will find your place in its fellowship.

Circle "K" Club Pays Off Pledge On Ticket Booth

The Circle K Club at Chowan College, a service organization, has paid off its pledge of $500 made last year for the Ticket Booth at the Chowan Athletic Field.

Kenneth Barnes, president, has presented Dr. Bruce E. Whitaker, President of the college, a check in the amount of $131.33. This completed the $500 pledge made by the club last year under the administration of Andy Barrett.

The pledge was made for the Ticket Booth at the main gate of the athletic field. The funds were raised by the Circle K Club members work in their numerous service projects. Professor Jacob Lee Stewart is the faculty adviser.

FINAL PAYMENT—William Lawrence, President of the Murfreesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce, presents Dr. Bruce E. Whitaker a check which represents the final payment from the Jaycees toward the purchase of the lights at the athletic field.