

MR. AND MRS. H. GORDON COLEMAN

Miss Frances White Becomes Bride of H. G. Coleman

The wedding of Miss Frances E. White and H. Gordon Coleman took place Thursday, October 19, at 10:30 a.m. at the home of the bride's cousin, the Rev. Dr. R. Kelly White, "White Wings," Conway.

Dr. White officiated at the ceremony and was assisted by the Rev. Rowland Pruette, minister of the Murfreesboro Baptist Church.

The attendants were Mrs. Wallace W. White Jr., sister-in-law of the bride, matron of honor, and Malcomb P. Coleman, son of the bridegroom, best man. Miss White was given in marriage by John Frances Wilroy II, nephew of Mrs. Wallace White.

Preceding the ceremony beautiful strains of "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" (Saint Saens), "Moonlight Sonata" (Beethoven), "Melodie in F" (Rubinstein), "Nocturne in E Flat" (Chopin) and "Traumerei" (Schumann) filled the house. The wedding march of Mendelssohn signaled the entrance of the wedding party as they took their places before an improvised floral-banked altar where the vows were said.

Miss White was attired in a Dior blue costume suit with dark blue accessories. Her corsage was a white, purple-throated orchid. Mrs. White, matron of honor, wore a toast suit, brown accessories with a lavender orchid.

The former Miss White was the only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. White and the sister of the late W. Wallace White, Jr., all of Boykins. She is a member of the faculty of Chowan College.

Mr. Coleman is the son of Henry G. Coleman, Sr., deceased, and Mrs. Ina J. Coleman of Durham. Mr. Coleman is the brother of the former missionary, Miss Ina Belle Coleman, and the Rev. Dr. Rupert Coleman, minister of Southside Baptist Church, Lakeland, Fla. He is a retired sales supervisor.

Wedding Breakfast

After the ceremony, Mrs. Julian Porter of Severn and Mrs. R. Kelly White were hostesses at a wedding breakfast for the wedding party and guests, who were members of the immediate families. Miss Una White and Mrs. R. Jennings White assisted the hostesses in serving.

Immediately following the breakfast, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman left for a trip through the mountains of Virginia and North Carolina. The couple will make their home in Boykins, Va.

Reunion of Popular Singers Arranged by Chowan Students

Reuniting folk-singer Emma Brooks with her fiance, Danny Potter, so that they could perform during Homecoming took enthusiastic planning and work by students, administrators, professors and other Chowan College personnel.

Emma, whose home is in Fayetteville, is a popular Chowan freshman whose folk-music concerts raised money needed to bring Danny to Chowan for the college's Homecoming.

Danny's home is also in Fayetteville, where he began singing with Emma in high school, and they performed in folk clubs and coffee houses and are largely responsible for the success of a coffee house constructed and operated by members of Fayetteville's Snyder Memorial Baptist Church.

A folk music concert by Emma, planned by almost everyone at Chowan, was held at the college and receipts used to buy Danny's airplane ticket from Detroit, where he is employed.

Their reunion was climaxed by a concert in the auditorium of Chowan's Columns Building, where they performed before a near-capacity audience, Homecoming night.

TOGETHER AGAIN— The singing duo of "Danny and Emma," reunited through the efforts of people at Chowan College, where Emma is a popular freshman and performed in folk-music concerts to assure her reunion with her fiance, Danny Potter, performed before a large audience in the Columns auditorium Homecoming night.
