

Many professors change to students for summer

With the opening of a new year, 30 faculty members changed roles from student to the more familiar one of teacher. They are the members of the faculty who engaged in additional graduate study during the summer at 13 institutions including Rutgers, Oregon State, University of Missouri, and University of Tennessee.

In the state, seven studied at the University of North Carolina, four at Greensboro and three at Chapel Hill; two at North Carolina State; one at Duke; and five at East Carolina. In addition, three are involved in East Carolina Extension work at Chowan.

An international flavor was added as two are studying at the Universidad International located at Saltillo, Mexico.

The faculty members and the schools attended are: Mrs. Un-dine Barnhill, N. C. State University; Mrs. Betty Batchelor, Universidad Interamericana, Saltillo, Mexico; Mrs. Helen Burgwyn, ECU Extension at Chowan; Morris E. Carson, Universidad Interamericana, Saltillo, Mexico; Trelles G. Case, UNC at Greensboro; Miss Anna Belle Crouch, ECU Extension at Chowan; James E. Dewar, Oregon State University; Mrs. Phyllis Dewar, Oregon State University; Garrett Fox, ECU; Mrs. Deaton Faucette, N.C. State University; James G. Garrison, UNC at Greensboro and University of South Carolina; Samuel Green, ECU; Mrs. Ann Harter, ECU Extension at Chowan; Mrs. Geraldine Harris,

ECU; Jerry Hawkins, ECU; George Hazelton, University of South Carolina; Miss Rebecca Kinnamon, Duke University; Mrs. Edith Larson, University of Tennessee; Mrs. Sylvia Liverman, UNC at Greensboro; William McCraw, UNC at Chapel Hill; Robert Mulder, University of Richmond; Rowland Pruette, Union Theological Seminary; T. ## Advisors meet

Chowan's Board of Advisors, which met Sept. 22 in the president's office, includes key leaders in business, professional, civic, educational and church life.

Their responsibilities include helping to interpret the College to specific groups; reporting to the College the reactions of the general public and specific publics with which each member is associated in business, community, and church life; and devising and recommending ways to help the College accomplish her long-term objectives as a Christian college of the liberal arts by making recommendations for the betterment of the College.

The Board meets bi-annually prior to the regular bi-annual meeting of the Board of Trustees.

Chairman of the Board of Advisors is State Senator Irwin Belk of Charlotte.

Dr. Parker new religion professor

A former chaplain and pastor, who received his Ph. D from Edinburgh University in Scotland, has assumed duties as a professor in the department of religion at Chowan College.

Dr. Earl H. Parker began his service during the second term of summer school. He came here from a position as counselor with the Vocational Rehabilitation Facility at Butner. Prior to that, he served over 11 years as pastor of Beth Car Baptist Church in Halifax, Va., and two years in the same position at Fremont Baptist Church in Fremont.

Other experience includes two years as an Air Force chaplain with the rank of captain, and two years as chaplain and professor of religion and philosophy at Converse College, Spartanburg, S. C.

In accepting the position, Dr. Parker stated he was anticipating returning to the college campus, "which with all its change, is the most crucial scene in America now."

James Dilday becomes new Dean of Men

James Earl Dilday, teacher, coach and assistant principal of Gates County High School, has been named Associate Dean of Students for Men at Chowan College. He began his duties July 1.

Dilday is a graduate of Ahsokie High School and East Carolina University. In June he completed his work for the Master's degree from East Carolina University.

Dilday has also served as teacher, coach and athletic director at Fremont High School. A native of Gatesville, he has coached four high school sports. He is president of the Gatesville Ruritan Club and sponsor of the Beta Club at Gates County High School.

His wife, the former Joy Durham of Richmond, Va., is a 1965 graduate of Chowan. Dilday will also be responsible for the intramural sports program.

YES I (WE) WANT TO BE A PART OF THE PROGRESS OF OUR ALMA MATER. OUR CHECK IS ENCLOSED.
