

Talk-Ins Popular With Students

Talk-Ins, 1971, a series of four discussions sponsored by Student Personnel, began on January 26 when 42 Chowan College students and six Murfreesboro Rotarians formed six discussion groups in the Baptist Student Union and shared their reactions to an article which appeared in the December, 1970, issue of "The Rotarian."

The article, "Rotarians Helping to 'Bridge the Gaps' Around the World," examined ways men and their clubs are working to solve the problems of the 70s.

George Gibbs, Governor of Rotary International District 771, opened the discussion with remarks relative to ways he has seen Rotarians bridging gaps in North Carolina. Gibb's remarks were followed with small-group discussions. A group was composed of seven students and one discussion leader.

Rotarians serving as discussion leaders were: L.

Frank Burleson, Jr., President of the Rotary Club of Murfreesboro, Ronald Jenkins, J. Guy Revelle, Jr., Bob F. Hill, Jr., David H. Dickie and Marion Byrd.

"This Talk-In involving Murfreesboro Rotarians gave students an opportunity to meet and learn some of the leading men in the town. We are always concerned about having and maintaining a good relationship between the citizens of Murfreesboro and the College students," said Clayton Lewis, dean of students.

Other Talk-Ins involved Chowan faculty and staff members as discussion leaders and was centered around the following topics: Hope for America, The Political and Social Views of William F. Buckley, and Women's Liberation.

Talk-Ins, 1971, is another of the programs sponsored by Student Personnel to bring all college citizens—students, faculty and staff—closer together.

BANKER PARTICIPATES—Taking part in a discussion with Chowan College students is David Dickie, right, banker and member of the Murfreesboro Rotary Club.

Faculty Workshop Held

While the rest of the nation is experiencing the fury of winter, Chowan College has greeted early "spring."

A faculty workshop Jan. 11-12 served to kickoff activities leading to the opening of the spring semester at the Baptist junior college.

Students arrived Tuesday,

January 12. Orientation was presented that evening.

Registration was held Wednesday, beginning at 10:30 a.m. Classes began Thursday.

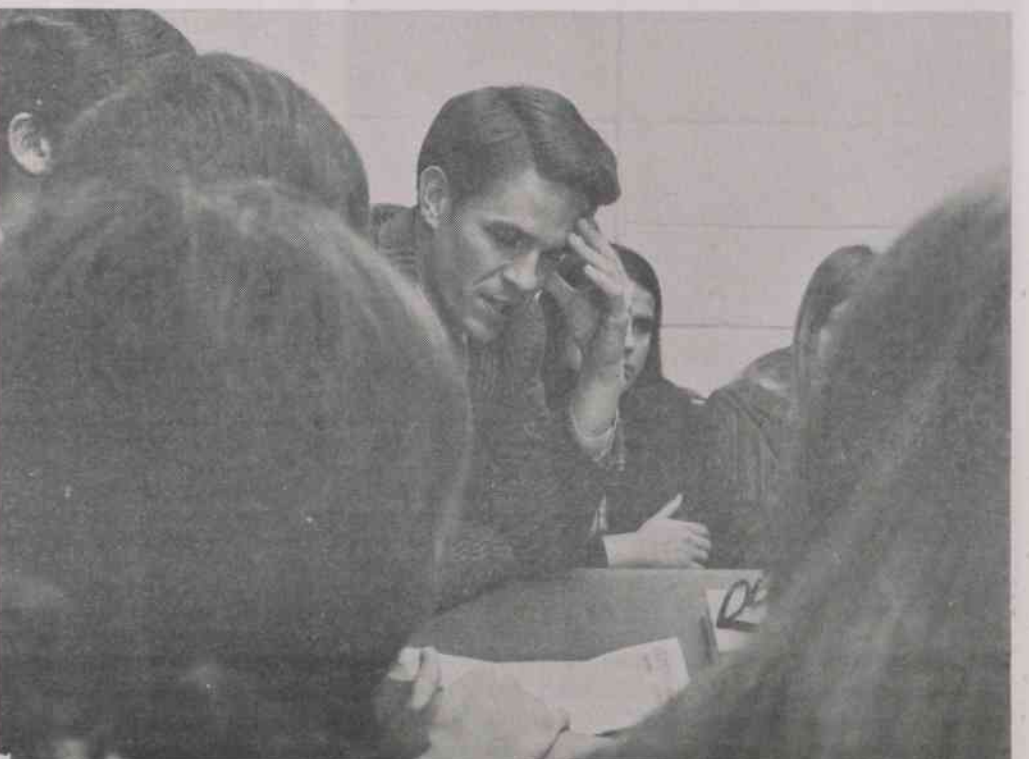

Other dates include spring holidays, March 26-April 5; final examinations, May 7-14; and baccalaureate and graduation, May 16.

PLANS SESSION—Innovations have come to be almost the norm for this creative individual, addressing the first Talk-In of the spring semester. Clayton Lewis, assisted by members of Student Personnel, has been responsible for the planning of the talk-ins, which proved to be highly successful last, their first year.

ROTARY OFFICIAL—Governor of Rotary International District 771, George Gibbs of Murfreesboro, introduces a Talk-In involving Rotarians and college students at Chowan.

CONCENTRATION—Total involvement is the response of Frank Burleson, lawyer and president of the Murfreesboro Rotary Club during a Talk-in with the students.