

CHARLES THOMAS NELSON

Nelson Joins GA Faculty

Charles Thomas Nelson, a 1967 graduate of Chowan College, has been named instructor in the college's famed School of Graphic Arts, according to an announcement released recently by Dr. B. Franklin Lowe, Jr., Dean of the College, and Herman W. Gatewood, Director of Graphic Arts. Nelson assumed his duties on June 15.

The new instructor, who will teach process camera operation and related subjects, is a native of Menola, and after graduation from Chowan, studied at East Carolina University. Prior to accepting the teaching position, he was associated with The Daily Reflector, Greenville.

Gatewood stated that "we are extremely pleased to have Mr. Nelson join the faculty of the School of Graphic Arts. His educational background and work experience will be valuable in his new responsibility."

Nelson is married to the former Trudy Garner of Newport, and they have one daughter, Tracy Lynn. They are presently residing at 316 Vance Street, Murfreesboro.

Course Offered

The Social Science department will offer a course in the spring semester entitled "Social Problems." It is the first time this course has been offered and will be taught by Professor John W. Gosnell.

Students will choose a particular problem which they are interested in and do independent research on it and share their findings with other students.

Topics which will be studied include crime and delinquency, the abuse of drugs, alcoholism, mental illness, minority relations, poverty, suicide, pollution, and social conflicts.

The course will include field trips such as a visit to a state mental hospital and a trip to Washington, D. C., to talk with congressmen about these problems.

The "Social Problems" course will be a sequel to "Introductory Sociology," which is given each semester, and will be offered in addition to "Marriage and the Family" next semester.
