

Leadership Group for Campaign

Among those providing leadership as Chowan seeks the final $400,000 to complete its campaign to construct a fully equipped $2.5 million gymnasium-physical education center are, from left, State Sen. J. J. Harrington of Lewiston, E. L. Hollowell of Edenton, and Dr. Bruce E. Whitaker. Harrington is national leadership gift co-chairman and Hollowell national chairman of Chowan's "Accomplishing Our Mission" campaign.

Gift Presented by Class of 1929

The Chowan College Class of 1929 has presented the college with a silver urn to hold flower arrangements in the main lobby of McDowell Columns. The class celebrated its 50th anniversary during Spring Festival in April. The urn was presented on behalf of the Class of 1929 by three of its members, from left; Miss Mary Whitley, Mrs. Elizabeth Parker, and Mrs. Ruby Udvarnoki, all of Murfreesboro. The urn is located beneath the portrait of Archibald McDowell, Chowan's first president who served from 1848-49 and 1862-1881.

THIS I do for you . . .

THIS I DO FOR YOU young people who will follow me . . . young men and women whose faces I may never see and whose names I may never know.

THIS I DO FOR YOU, not just to be remembered but for the joy of helping you to grow and to learn so that you might realize wonderful possibilities and potential.

THIS I DO FOR YOU because so many did so much for me that I can never repay, except by doing for others.

THIS I DO FOR YOU because I believe that Christian higher education is a wonderful gift which endures.

Christian higher education for a young person is a lasting (forever) gift that can't be taken away. It endures! You can help give a forever gift to young people at Chowan College. Just imagine what wonders your gift might work and keep on working.

Consider reaching for forever by making an endowed gift, a living trust, through your will or your estate. You can make a lasting gift which will keep on giving forever and that's a long, long time. It's easy to do. You can begin right now and we are anxious to help you. Limitless opportunities are open to you at Chowan College.

Call me at (919) 398-4101 or write to me and I will personally share with you both opportunities and ways for you to reach out for forever.

I want to do my share to aid future generations and to insure the continuity of Christian higher education through Chowan College.

I would like to know more about:

- Forever gift opportunities
- A bequest through my will
- A living forever trust
- A special endowed fund
- A gift of life insurance
