

Work of ECU Art Faculty On Exhibit

An exhibition of works by the art faculty of East Carolina University will be on view during February in the Chowan Art Gallery.

The exhibition is sponsored by the N.C. Museum of Art in Raleigh and its Traveling Exhibitions Program and was organized with the assistance of Dr. Richard Laing, dean of the School of Art at ECU, and Randy Osman, director of ECU's Gray Gallery. It will travel throughout the state for one year.

Featured in the exhibition are 20 works by 15 faculty members of ECU's School of Art, representing the fine arts division, art education, interior design and communication arts. In addition to a work by Laing, the exhibition includes works by William Holley, chairman of Art Education; Betty Petteway, director of graduate studies in Art; and Mel Stanforth, chairman of Interior Design.

A variety of media is represented, though only two-dimensional works have been included because of shipping and handling considerations. Most of the pieces in the show are for sale.

The Traveling Exhibitions Program, initiated almost two decades ago, continues to be one of the museum's most popular statewide services. The program provides traveling shows to any non-profit organization which can meet lighting and security requirements.

Works of State's Artists Exhibited

A sampling of some of the best work being produced by contemporary North Carolina artists was exhibited in the Chowan Gallery in Daniel Hall, on loan from the N.C. Museum of Art in Raleigh in mid-January.

A selection of works by 23 artists who are or have been residents of North Carolina make up the traveling N.C. Artists Exhibition, Part I. Pieces in the show were selected from the 88 works in the 42nd N.C. Artists Exhibition (NCAE) at the state museum.

Jurors for the 42nd NCAE were Garo Antreasian of the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque, Benjamin Forgey of the Washington Star and Richard Marshall of the Whitney Museum of American Art in New York City. They selected the works in the exhibition from 1,290 entries and chose which pieces would circulate in two traveling shows.

The circulating exhibition included works selected to represent the wide range of media styles that characterized the NCAE. Acrylics, pen and ink, intaglio and photography are among the media represented.

Educational Grant Awarded by Sears

Unrestricted grants totaling more than $49,000 have been distributed to 38 privately supported colleges and universities in North Carolina by The Sears-Roebuck Foundation, Tom Oakes and Douglas Cox, area representatives announced.

Chowan will receive grants totaling $900. The North Carolina colleges and universities are among over 1,000 private accredited two and four year institutions across the country which are sharing in $1,500,000 in Sears Foundation funds for the 1980-81 academic year. Funds may be used as the colleges and universities deem necessary.

SPRING FESTIVAL 81

SPRING FESTIVAL is indeed a special day for the alumni of Chowan College. It's the time we all come back to campus. It's our family reunion — when we get together to enjoy the beauty of Chowan and the fun of fellowship with our old friends.

SPRING FESTIVAL gets better each year. Call your friends and invite them to meet you on campus. Better yet — bring them with you! We're all looking forward to seeing you and your classmates.

Class Reunions and Chapter Meetings

Class Reunions are always a happy time — a very special time! The classes listed below are having special reunions at 10:15 a.m. A room in Marks Hall is being reserved for you. Don't miss it — bring your yearbook! Call your classmates and plan on seeing everyone together again!

Classes Holding Reunions: All classes prior to 1926, 1926, 1931, 1936, 1941, 1951, 1956, 1961, 1966, 1971, 1976.

The 1971 Nursing Class will be having a special reunion during the day.

Hertford County Chapter: The members of our local chapter will be serving as your alumni hosts for Spring Festival.

Tidewater-Peninsula Chapter: Alumni from the Tidewater-Peninsula area of Virginia are coming to campus as a group. The chapter has reserved a room for their use in Marks Hall during the class reunions.

An ALUMNI CHOIR made up of past members of the Chowan College Choir will rehearse for a performance with the present College Choir at 10:00 a.m. in Daniel Hall. All alumni who were Choir members and also those who want to be a part of the Alumni Choir are invited to join the group.
