

Queen, King of Spring crowned at coronation

Maria Allsbrook, of Roanoke Rapids, and Allan Simpson, of New Bern, are Chowan College's King and Queen of Spring for 1985.

They received their crowns from President and Mrs. Bruce E. Whitaker during the Spring Festival coronation ceremony April 20. Freshman Becky Hawkins of Murfreesboro and Seth Tyson of Stantonsburg were named prince and princess.

Coronation ceremony participants included David Sparrow, master of ceremonies; flower bearers, Christina Anne Futrell and Amy Lynn Whitaker; and crown bearer, Albert McCray Jones, III. The Chowan College Band and Ensemble entertained.

Alumni Activities

Spring Festival activities for alumni included class reunions, business session and luncheon. Presiding was Sydney Lewis, class of 1969, president from Hampton, Va. Walter Gardner, '75, of Warrenton and Frank Edwards, '58, Rocky Mount, were elected president and president-elect respectively.

Other activities included student art and photography exhibits, Campus Carnival, and concert by the choir and band.

Members of Court

Other members of the Spring Festival Court, who were introduced at the Coronation, included: freshmen Betty Anne Drake, Franklin, Va.; Becky Hawkins, Murfreesboro; Shanita Milsaps, Statesville; Tammy Potter, Chesapeake, Va.; David Clark, Fayetteville; Terry Kemp, Castile, N.Y.; Tom Phillips, Herndon, Va.; and Seth Tyson, Stantonsburg. The Sophomores are Maria Allsbrook, Roanoke Rapids; Hazel Barnes, Virginia Beach; Terri Douberly, Chesapeake, Va.; Jennifer Ryan, Raleigh; Mark Dalkiewicz, Hopewell, Va.; Jim McKee, Marlboro, N.Y.; Allan Simpson, New Bern; and Mike Zimmerman, Chatham, N.J.

TOP PHOTO—Mrs. Bruce E. Whitaker had the honor of crowning Chowan's first King of Spring, Allan Simpson, of New Bern, left, and prince, Seth Tyson of Stantonsburg, at the annual Spring Festival.

LOWER PHOTO—Dr. Bruce Whitaker, president, performed his usual duties by crowning the queen, Maria Allsbrook of Roanoke Rapids, and her princess, Becky Hawkins of Murfreesboro.