

Alumni return to alma mater for reunions

Remembering the "old days"

"The Fifties" recalled

One of the most active alumni groups returning for reunions with classmates were members of the 1950-51 graduating class. The group met in the conference room of Lakeside Student Center.

Time passes swiftly

The Class of 1963 renewed friendships during the Spring Festival activities, and members commented that it "doesn't seem like 25 years since we were students at Chowan."
